Ohio Union Racketeers Due for Senate Probe

Northern Pacific Gets New Quakes

More Tidal Waves May Come; Volcano, Silent 200 Years, Blows

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nervous northeastern rim of the Pacific continued to tremble Sunday night in the wake of Saturday's mighty earthquake in the Aleutian Islands.

The restless earth that sent tidal waves crashing into villages in Hawaii and Japan rumbled again at 10:20:23 p. m. EST.

The University of California seismograph at Berkeley was still registering the shock 2½ hours later.

Research assistant John Denoyer said the new quake, apparently another vigorous aftershock of the Saturday quake, appeared again to be in the Aleutians.

Meanwhile, the Coast and Geodetic Survey office in Honolulu reported that Mt. Vsevidof on the Aleutian Island of Unmark was belching smoke after lying dormant for 200 years. Officials said it probably had been stirred to life by Saturday's big quake.

IN HAWAII, where waves ranging from 3 to 9 feet high slammed up over the beaches Saturday along northern shores of the islands, Gov. Samuel King said 154 people were left homeless in two villages on Kauai while 4,000 others were isolated by washed-out bridges.

Unofficial damage estimates ranged up to $2 million.

No direct loss of life was reported because of early warnings, but Paul O. Beam and Sarah Park, both Honolulu Star-Bulletin reporters, were dead in the crash of a plane photographing the waves. Photographer Jack Matsumoto was hurt.

Seismologist Denoyer said he could not tell whether Sunday night's aftershock, the fifth, would cause more tidal waves.

Quake-born waves, raised by shock forces shot up from the ocean floor at near the speed of sound, flooded Japanese fishing villages Sunday.

Five hours after the wave alert had ended on the U. S. West Coast, a surprise sweep of water raced into San Diego Bay Saturday night, smashing a boat slip on Shelter Island. The crest piled into San Diego Bay with a speed estimated at 28½ miles an hour.

Hawaii's territorial governor said he would declare a 10-mile coastal section from Kalihiwai to Haena as a disaster area.

The Red Cross opened a disaster headquarters at Waialua, Ohau, for persons made homeless by the waves.

The San Diego wave pulled an 83-foot craft from its moorings. It rammed a 50-foot schooner, the Sea Star, jarring a yachting family awake but causing no damage or injury.

Shelter Island, hit by the late wave, is a berthing place for small craft.

Seismologist Don Tocher said the University of California recorded another major shock for two hours this morning. It started at 5:05:47 a. m. EST.

Tocher said the intensity was 6.75 on the Richter scale.

Meanwhile, another strong earthquake today rocked the Volos area in central Greece. The population ran into the streets for safety, but no casualties were reported.

A police official said Volos itself suffered little damage but that the few buildings in nearby Velestino which survived last week's heavy shocks collapsed. No new casualties were reported.

Quakes that hit the area Friday and Saturday left 1 known dead, at least 50 injured, and 25,000 homeless. About 4,000 homes were destroyed.

Arabs Uneasy In Gaza Strip

Return To Egyptian Control Demanded

GAZA (AP)—Unrest in the Gaza Strip still exists despite the Israeli withdrawal. U. N. forces had to use tear gas Sunday to disperse Arabs rioting for a return to Egyptian control.

A committee of Arabs claiming to represent more than 1,000 civil workers employed in the strip before the Israeli invasion said they would work only if Egypt approved the civil administration set up for the strip by the U. N. Emergency Force (UNEF).

The rioting stemmed from the temporary administrative setup headed by Danish Col. Carl Ingholm as military governor. He named a committee of five residents of Gaza City to supervise all civil affairs in the town itself.

Ingholm will preside over the council. Munir Rayess, Gaza mayor under the Egyptian administration who was held a political prisoner for 45 days during the Israeli occupation, was asked to serve. He declined, saying that the pre-invasion council objected.

There is strong feeling among the 310,000 residents of the strip, including some 215,000 Palestine Arab refugees, against even the appearance of international control in the strip.

* * *

ABOUT 300 ARABS stormed through the streets, waving banners and shouting for the return of Egyptian administration. When U. N. troops in vehicles herded the demonstrators down Gaza's main street and out of the center of town, the rioters began throwing stones.

The Arabs tried to smash the gates of the UNEF police headquarters. The U.N. troops, using tear gas and firing over the rioters' heads, forced them to disperse. The demonstrators made several unsuccessful efforts to reform their ranks.

No casualties were reported on either side.

After the outbreak, a curfew previously ordered for 6 p. m. was moved up to 1 p. m. Sound trucks drove through the streets ordering the population to obey, but the military police had difficulty in getting the Arabs to comply.

Livestock Burned

MOUNT VERNON (AP) — Sixty-seven head of livestock and 650 bales of hay and straw were destroyed in a barn fire Sunday night on the Chester Scarbrough farm five miles south of Fredericktown in Knox County.

Indonesian Cabinet Planning To Quit As Revolt Grows

JAKARTA (AP)—The government of Indonesia, beset by a rash of bloodless rebellions and a financial crisis, has decided to resign on Wednesday.

Informants report the decision was made after a meeting of the five parties which make up Premier Ali Sastroamidjojo's coalition government.

South Sumatra joined the spreading revolt Saturday, when a revolutionary council withdrew its support from the central government. Lt. Col. Barlian, another of Indonesia's restless young army leaders, blasted the Sastroamidjojo government as being "slow" and "incompetent." The Sastroamidjojo - appointed governor fled to Java, it was reported.

Dissatisfied political and military leaders in Borneo, the world's third largest island and the least explored of the 3,000 in Indonesia, were reported considering similar action.

* * *

REBELLIOUS groups already have bolted from the central government in central Sumatra and in eastern Indonesia—Celebes, Timor, the Lesser Sundas, Flores and Bali.

A complaint of all the rebelling groups is that their areas do not get a big enough cut from the proceeds of their export for local improvements and services.

But Finance Minister Paden Djuanda announced another drop in the gold reserves supporting the currency and declared the government is unable to meet all the financial demands of the rebelling units.

While generally declaring allegiance to President Sukarno, the rebel leaders have also been uneasy about the president's plan to bring Communists into an all-party government.

Lt. Col. Ventje Samaul, leader of the east Indonesian coup, declared he would "rather deal with American imperialists than those damned Communists."

There were warnings of new defections as the sprawling nation of 80 million waited tensely to see whether Sukarno would carry out his plan to bring Reds into the government. The rebel leaders demanded an end to the government of Premier Sastroamidjojo.

Rumblings of discontent came from Borneo, world's third largest island and least explored territory in the 3,000-mile archipelago.

As the Jakarta government's authority shrank to a small remaining part of north Sumatra, tottering Borneo and Java itself, word spread that the Cabinet would hold an emergency session Wednesday.

Wolfson Gains Big Hold In Motor Firm

DETROIT (AP)—George Romney president of American Motors Corp. said today that financier Louis E. Wolfson and his wife have become the largest stockholders in the company.

The Wolfsons reportedly own 240,000 shares of American Motors which has 48,000 stockholders and 5,670,340 shares outstanding.

Regarding published reports that Wolfson proposes American Motors sell its automotive Nash-Hudson-Rambler division and concentrate on Kelvinator appliances Romey said:

"I have seen Wolfson recently. I am always anxious to get the views of our shareholders. I don't know exactly what Mr. Wolfson has in mind in the way of changes or suggestions. I don't know if he has any definite changes in mind.

Wolfson 45 is a veteran of some of the nation's roughest stockholder - management battles in recent years. His endeavor to take over Montgomery Ward & Co. was unsuccessful but brought about a reorganization and the retirement of Sewell Avery as chairman.

American Motors formed in 1954 through merger of Nash-Kelvinator Corp. and the Hudson Motor Car Co. reported it lost $19,700,000 in the year ended last Sept. 30. Romney said the appliance division had the "most profitable year since 1950."

COLUMBUS (AP) — Fifteen persons, five of them in one traffic collision, died accidentally in Ohio during the weekend.

An Associated Press survey, which began Friday at 6 p.m. and ended Sunday at midnight, indicated that 13 of the fatalities were victims of traffic accidents.

A father and three of his children were among the dead in a car collision on U.S. 224 about a mile and a half east of New Haven Sunday which took a toll of five lives.

The dead were identified by the Ohio Highway Patrol as Miss Shirley J. Reeder, 31, of Plymouth, driver of one of the cars; Charles L. Moser, 31, of Plymouth, the other driver, and three of Moser's children—Gary, 7; Douglas, 6, and Vicki, 5.

Toledo Woman, 42, Held In Poisoning

TOLEDO (AP) — A 42-year - old housewife has been charged with administering poison to her husband and her daughter.

Detectives said Mrs. Ruth Underwater admitted she put strychnine into a carton of milk. She said, "I really didn't want to kill them. I didn't intend for my daughter to get any of it at all."

Police tested the milk after Mrs. Underwater's husband, Joseph, 60, her daughter, Mrs. Judy Miles, 22, and Clifford Lybarger, 50, caretaker of the apartment building where she lives, became ill.

Cramer called police.

Two cops smashed a window to enter the locked apartment. The officers opened the oven and removed a scorched roast.

The policemen found some board, a hammer and nails and secured the shattered window against possible thieves.

Jury Due To Get Case In Death Of Greenfield Cabby

HILLSBORO (AP) — The trial of Robert Lee Curtis for first degree murder in the stabbing of a cab driver is expected to go to a common pleas jury today.

Final arguments by defense and prosecution were scheduled for this morning.

Defense attorneys completed their case Saturday without putting the defendant on the stand. Trial started last Monday.

Curtis is accused of stabbing to death Durward E. Perry, 51, Greenfield cab driver, in a robbery attempt last Dec. 8.

Common Pleas Judge Darrell Hottle admitted as evidence Friday a statement by Curtis admitting he stabbed Perry.

New Dam Reservoir Starting To Fill

THE DALLES, Ore. (AP) — The huge, government-built The Dalles Dam choked off the Columbia River for 4½ hours Sunday to create a reservoir that eventually will add more than a million kilowatts to the nation's power.

Power production will begin at the $260 million dam in November. At first it will be 156,000 kilowatts. By 1960 it will reach its planned 1,092,000 kilowatts.

The potential is 1,716,000 kilowatts. That would make it second in the nation only to Grand Coulee Dam, another in the series of government dams in the Columbia Basin. Grand Coulee produces 1,974,000 kilowatts.

$1 Billion Slash In Aid Fund Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California predicted today Congress will cut about $1 billion off President Eisenhower's $4.3 billion foreign aid request.

Chairman Bridges (NH) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee backed this up with a forecast of "substantial cuts" in the economic assistance program.

Eisenhower told his news conference last week he doesn't believe any "substantial cuts" can be made in aid funds "and still support the welfare of the United States and the world."

Reopening of Suez Seen Coming Soon

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — U. N. salvage teams moved into position today for the job of removing the last two obstructions in the Suez Canal. If the Egyptians give an expected go ahead Tuesday, the obstructions can be cleared in less than a month, thus opening the canal to ships of maximum draft and tonnage almost a month ahead of schedule.

Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, who is in charge of the U.N. operations, expects a green light from the Egyptians at any moment to proceed with removal of the tug Edgar Bonnet and the Egyptian authorities have said unofficially the teams will be able to get to work Tuesday.

A big problem will be dredging. Most of the canal's dredging equipment has been lost. Since the canal was closed last November there has been little silting, but as soon as heavy ships start moving heavy silting will begin. Three dredgers are working now.

As canal clearance moved ahead, the political problems remained. President Nasser says he isn't sure whether he would abide by any World Court ruling which would permit Israeli ships to pass through the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba.

* * *

NASSER'S VIEWS appeared in a Cairo newspaper even as Israel announced she would ignore any World Court decisions on cases brought up by the Arab states. Israel's official gazette carried this statement over the signature of Foreign Minister Golda Meir.

The Nasser interview, which originally appeared in the Indian weekly Blitz, conflicted with earlier reports that Egypt would be willing to let the international tribunal decide whether the Tiran Strait and Gulf of Aqaba are international or territorial waters. Such a ruling would decide Israel's right to access to the south Israeli port of Eilat.

Egyptian officials have said flatly Israeli shipping will not be allowed through the Suez Canal because Egypt technically is still at war with Israel. The 1888 Suez Canal convention permits the country controlling the waterway to close it to enemies.

Cairo's claim that the Tiran Strait is Egyptian territorial water may be tested soon.

Reliable sources in Jerusalem said three American tankers loaded with crude oil would sail through the Gulf to Eilat in April.

A showdown might come if Egyptian forces have returned to the U.N.-occupied gulf coast by then.

World Canal Grip Doubted

West Sees Chance Dim Of Nasser Giving In

The future of the Suez, together with alternative means of transport, probably will rank high in the talks between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in Bermuda next week.

Nasser presumably is relying on Soviet backing to help him make secure the hold which he has been tightening on the Suez Canal since he seized it last July 26. The United States and many other free nations have been trying to keep some measure of operating control of the canal while conceding Egypt's ownership of it.

The newest Western move was a proposal that ships using the waterway pay tolls to the World Bank, United Nations or some other "neutral" agency. The agency in turn would pay 50 per cent of the collection to Egypt and hold the rest pending a final settlement of the claims arising out of Egypt's nationalization act.

* * *

NASSER'S REGIME gave its answer in a statement Saturday. Information Director Abdel Kader Hatem said Egypt would not accept "any such proposal" because "it violates Egypt's rights according to the 1888 convention on the Suez Canal." He added that from now on all Suez Canal tolls must be paid to Egyptian authorities.

The Western Powers have two principal bargaining points in addition to the less direct pressure of world opinion.

For one, the United States and Britain have frozen very substantial Egyptian assets under their control. Nasser wants them released but experts here doubt they will be a decisive factor.

The other is the fact that not only the nations of Western Europe but also those of South Asia and Africa and many of the Arab states themselves, have an interest in canal transport.

Newsmen Getting Jetliner Flight

SEATTLE (AP) — William Allen, president of Boeing Airplane Co., told newsmen boarding a 707 jet airliner for a possible four-hour coast-to-coast flight today they were headed for "the greatest experience of your lives."

The 707, which flies at 550 to 600 m.p.h., was scheduled to take off from Boeing Field for a nonstop, 2,230-mile speed run to Friendship International Airport 10 miles south of Baltimore.

More than a year ago the 707 flew to Washington, D. C., in 3 hours and 58 minutes, aided by strong "jet streams" or high altitude winds.

Chamber's Rap At School Bill Hit By Folsom

WASHINGTON (AP)— Secretary of Welfare Folsom says the U.S. Chamber of Commerce has made "seriously misleading and inaccurate statements" in opposing federal aid for school construction.

Folsom, a former director of the business organization, in turn was accused by a Chamber spokesman of "advocating the principle of federal survillance over" U. S. state school systems.

A House Education subcommittee is considering an administration bill which would provide $1.3 billion in federal aid for school construction over the next four years. The Chamber has called such a program "unwise."

Folsom in a letter to John S. Coleman president of the Chamber said "there is no sound or justifiable basis" for a chamber charge that "federal aid advocates obviously are attempting to establish the principle of federal financing and control from which they can leap into actual control of the schools."

Folsom said "The proposed legislation specifically prohibits any federal direction supervision or control over the personnel curriculum or program of instruction of any school or school system."

Ohio Reserve Bank Showing Increases

CLEVELAND (AP) — Federal Reserve member banks in the Fourth District had total resources of $15.3 billion last year, compared with $14½ billion in 1955, President Wilbur D. Fulton of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland announced today.

Total earnings were $490 million in 1956 compared with $429 million the previous year, Fulton said in releasing the bank's annual statement of operating ratios of member banks in 1956.

Loans made by the banks increased $771 million last year and cash assets were $260 million higher, but holdings of U. S. government securities showed a decrease of $428 million, the statement said.

Oil Pipeline From Iraq Is Pumping Again

LONDON (AP)—A spokesman for the Iraq Petroleum Co. said today oil has started flowing again from Iraq through a repaired pipeline across Syria to Baniyas on the Mediterranean coast.

He added that pumping through the company's other two pipelines across Syria was expected to begin "in a day or two."

"The 30-inch pipeline to Baniyas is the newest of the three and therefore was in better condition and needed less repairs. We have heard officially that pumping through this pipeline has actually started."

The IPC spokesman was commenting on a statement by its representative in Damascus that oil would start flowing through the pipelines within 48 hours. The flow stopped when IPC installations in Syria were sabotaged Nov. 4 a few days after British-French forces began the invasion of Suez.

Two other pipelines one 16 inches and the other 12 run through Syria to the Mediterranean at Tripoli.

"Before Suez we used to pump 25 million tons a year across Syria. That means we should be pumping about 40 per cent of our normal output as soon as the other two pipelines are working. We have no knowledge in London of any change in this estimate."

Government Aide Explains Job Of His 'Generalists'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Don't let the fellow at the next desk look down his nose at you because he's a specialist. Tell him you're a generalist.

The word saw the light at House Appropriation Committee hearings on the civil defense budget. The proceedings show that Administrator Val Peterson was asked what was meant by the listing of generalists on his staff.

"Is this a superspecialist?" asked Rep. Yates (D-Ill).

"No," Peterson replied. "This is a man who is jack of all trades. He can go out and do business in most of those fields."

Said Rep. Thomas (D-Tex): "We can all qualify."

Panel Counsel Mum On Plans

'Number Of Different' Outfits Said Involved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators plan to look into complaints of labor union racketeering in Ohio.

This was disclosed today by Robert F. Kennedy, counsel for the Senate committee now investigating labor rackets in Portland, Ore.

"We've had enough complaints to justify sending investigators to Ohio," Kennedy said. "Just when they will go I can't say."

Asked whether the Ohio complaints concerned the Teamsters Union, now being investigated, Kennedy replied, "No, there are a number of different unions."

Kennedy declined to specify where in Ohio the committee investigators would go.

Meanwhile, Senate investigators prepared to subpoena Teamsters Union President Dave Beck and seize his financial records unless he agrees quickly to "be cooperative."

The teamster chief returned unheralded from Europe Sunday, dodged reporters in New York, refused to be interviewed in Chicago, and flew on to his home in Seattle.

Arriving there, Beck said "I don't think so" when he was asked by newsmen whether he would wait for a subpoena. He said he expected to go to Washington "very soon." Beck declined to answer any other questions.

Beck's Teamsters Union, the nation's biggest, has been the focus so far of a special Senate committee's search for evidence of racketeering influences in labor and industry.

For the last two weeks, the committee has received testimony that West Coast teamster officials were linked with underworld figures and some public office holders in efforts to take over vice and gambling operations in Portland, Ore. The hearings are in recess until Tuesday.

* * *

THE COMMITTEE has said it wants to question Beck about charges that union funds were used to pay some of his personal bills, and about the activities of some of his lieutenants.

Informed of Beck's return, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the investigating group, said:

"I just assume he (Beck) will get in touch with the committee now that he's back."

Other committee sources said a subpoena was being drafted to summon Beck before the panel.

The hearings are to resume Tuesday with testimony from Clyde Crosby, Teamsters Union boss in Oregon, and William M. Langley, district attorney in Multnomah County. Both are under indictment.

Telephone Repair Crews Keep Busy In Scioto County

PORTSMOUTH (AP) — Thirty-one crews of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. are still at work repairing cables in an effort to fully restore telephone service to Scioto County.

Since the recent end of the strike against the company by the Communications Workers of America, workmen have been repairing cables slashed during the long period of labor strife.

Thus far, about 25 per cent of the 17,000 telephones in the city and county have been restored to full service. With the many crews at work repairing the cables, company officials hoped a higher percentage of phones can be in service by the end of the week.

50 Ohio Farmers Flying To Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifty Ohio farmers fly into Washington today to talk farm problems with their congressmen and Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

The farmers are members of the Ohio Farm Bureau, which has been sending such a delegation to Washington annually for the last seven years.

As it happens, the Ohioans are arriving during a crisis for farm legislation. The house is engaged in debating the most important bills of this type for the session—the attempt to provide emergency legislation to reduce overproduction of corn and other feed grains.

A complaint of all the rebelling groups is that their areas do not get a big enough cut from the proceeds of their export for local improvements and services.

But Finance Minister Paden Djuanda announced another drop in the gold reserves supporting the currency and declared the government is unable to meet all the financial demands of the rebelling units.

While generally declaring allegiance to President Sukarno, the rebel leaders have also been uneasy about the president's plan to bring Communists into an all-party government.

Lt. Col. Ventje Samaul, leader of the east Indonesian coup, declared he would "rather deal with American imperialists than those damned Communists."

There were warnings of new defections as the sprawling nation of 80 million waited tensely to see whether Sukarno would carry out his plan to bring Reds into the government. The rebel leaders demanded an end to the government of Premier Sastroamidjojo.

Rumblings of discontent came from Borneo, world's third largest island and least explored territory in the 3,000-mile archipelago.

As the Jakarta government's authority shrank to a small remaining part of north Sumatra, tottering Borneo and Java itself, word spread that the Cabinet would hold an emergency session Wednesday.

Wolfson Gains Big Hold In Motor Firm

DETROIT (AP)—George Romney president of American Motors Corp. said today that financier Louis E. Wolfson and his wife have become the largest stockholders in the company.

The Wolfsons reportedly own 240,000 shares of American Motors which has 48,000 stockholders and 5,670,340 shares outstanding.

Regarding published reports that Wolfson proposes American Motors sell its automotive Nash-Hudson-Rambler division and concentrate on Kelvinator appliances Romey said:

"I have seen Wolfson recently. I am always anxious to get the views of our shareholders. I don't know exactly what Mr. Wolfson has in mind in the way of changes or suggestions. I don't know if he has any definite changes in mind.

Wolfson 45 is a veteran of some of the nation's roughest stockholder - management battles in recent years. His endeavor to take over Montgomery Ward & Co. was unsuccessful but brought about a reorganization and the retirement of Sewell Avery as chairman.

American Motors formed in 1954 through merger of Nash-Kelvinator Corp. and the Hudson Motor Car Co. reported it lost $19,700,000 in the year ended last Sept. 30. Romney said the appliance division had the "most profitable year since 1950."

Jury Due To Get Case In Death Of Greenfield Cabby

HILLSBORO (AP) — The trial of Robert Lee Curtis for first degree murder in the stabbing of a cab driver is expected to go to a common pleas jury today.

Final arguments by defense and prosecution were scheduled for this morning.

Defense attorneys completed their case Saturday without putting the defendant on the stand. Trial started last Monday.

Curtis is accused of stabbing to death Durward E. Perry, 51, Greenfield cab driver, in a robbery attempt last Dec. 8.

Common Pleas Judge Darrell Hottle admitted as evidence Friday a statement by Curtis admitting he stabbed Perry.

New Dam Reservoir Starting To Fill

THE DALLES, Ore. (AP) — The huge, government-built The Dalles Dam choked off the Columbia River for 4½ hours Sunday to create a reservoir that eventually will add more than a million kilowatts to the nation's power.

Power production will begin at the $260 million dam in November. At first it will be 156,000 kilowatts. By 1960 it will reach its planned 1,092,000 kilowatts.

The potential is 1,716,000 kilowatts. That would make it second in the nation only to Grand Coulee Dam, another in the series of government dams in the Columbia Basin. Grand Coulee produces 1,974,000 kilowatts.

$1 Billion Slash In Aid Fund Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California predicted today Congress will cut about $1 billion off President Eisenhower's $4.3 billion foreign aid request.

Chairman Bridges (NH) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee backed this up with a forecast of "substantial cuts" in the economic assistance program.

Eisenhower told his news conference last week he doesn't believe any "substantial cuts" can be made in aid funds "and still support the welfare of the United States and the world."

Reopening of Suez Seen Coming Soon

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — U. N. salvage teams moved into position today for the job of removing the last two obstructions in the Suez Canal. If the Egyptians give an expected go ahead Tuesday, the obstructions can be cleared in less than a month, thus opening the canal to ships of maximum draft and tonnage almost a month ahead of schedule.

Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, who is in charge of the U.N. operations, expects a green light from the Egyptians at any moment to proceed with removal of the tug Edgar Bonnet and the Egyptian authorities have said unofficially the teams will be able to get to work Tuesday.

A big problem will be dredging. Most of the canal's dredging equipment has been lost. Since the canal was closed last November there has been little silting, but as soon as heavy ships start moving heavy silting will begin. Three dredgers are working now.

As canal clearance moved ahead, the political problems remained. President Nasser says he isn't sure whether he would abide by any World Court ruling which would permit Israeli ships to pass through the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba.

* * *

NASSER'S VIEWS appeared in a Cairo newspaper even as Israel announced she would ignore any World Court decisions on cases brought up by the Arab states. Israel's official gazette carried this statement over the signature of Foreign Minister Golda Meir.

The Nasser interview, which originally appeared in the Indian weekly Blitz, conflicted with earlier reports that Egypt would be willing to let the international tribunal decide whether the Tiran Strait and Gulf of Aqaba are international or territorial waters. Such a ruling would decide Israel's right to access to the south Israeli port of Eilat.

Egyptian officials have said flatly Israeli shipping will not be allowed through the Suez Canal because Egypt technically is still at war with Israel. The 1888 Suez Canal convention permits the country controlling the waterway to close it to enemies.

Cairo's claim that the Tiran Strait is Egyptian territorial water may be tested soon.

Reliable sources in Jerusalem said three American tankers loaded with crude oil would sail through the Gulf to Eilat in April.

A showdown might come if Egyptian forces have returned to the U.N.-occupied gulf coast by then.

World Canal Grip Doubted

West Sees Chance Dim Of Nasser Giving In

The future of the Suez, together with alternative means of transport, probably will rank high in the talks between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in Bermuda next week.

Nasser presumably is relying on Soviet backing to help him make secure the hold which he has been tightening on the Suez Canal since he seized it last July 26. The United States and many other free nations have been trying to keep some measure of operating control of the canal while conceding Egypt's ownership of it.

The newest Western move was a proposal that ships using the waterway pay tolls to the World Bank, United Nations or some other "neutral" agency. The agency in turn would pay 50 per cent of the collection to Egypt and hold the rest pending a final settlement of the claims arising out of Egypt's nationalization act.

* * *

NASSER'S REGIME gave its answer in a statement Saturday. Information Director Abdel Kader Hatem said Egypt would not accept "any such proposal" because "it violates Egypt's rights according to the 1888 convention on the Suez Canal." He added that from now on all Suez Canal tolls must be paid to Egyptian authorities.

The Western Powers have two principal bargaining points in addition to the less direct pressure of world opinion.

For one, the United States and Britain have frozen very substantial Egyptian assets under their control. Nasser wants them released but experts here doubt they will be a decisive factor.

The other is the fact that not only the nations of Western Europe but also those of South Asia and Africa and many of the Arab states themselves, have an interest in canal transport.

Newsmen Getting Jetliner Flight

SEATTLE (AP) — William Allen, president of Boeing Airplane Co., told newsmen boarding a 707 jet airliner for a possible four-hour coast-to-coast flight today they were headed for "the greatest experience of your lives."

The 707, which flies at 550 to 600 m.p.h., was scheduled to take off from Boeing Field for a nonstop, 2,230-mile speed run to Friendship International Airport 10 miles south of Baltimore.

More than a year ago the 707 flew to Washington, D. C., in 3 hours and 58 minutes, aided by strong "jet streams" or high altitude winds.

The lady, Otoe County Attorney Betty Peterson Sharp, had Gallagher hauled into court for selling lottery tickets. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs of $11.

Oil Pipeline From Iraq Is Pumping Again

LONDON (AP)—A spokesman for the Iraq Petroleum Co. said today oil has started flowing again from Iraq through a repaired pipeline across Syria to Baniyas on the Mediterranean coast.

He added that pumping through the company's other two pipelines across Syria was expected to begin "in a day or two."

"The 30-inch pipeline to Baniyas is the newest of the three and therefore was in better condition and needed less repairs. We have heard officially that pumping through this pipeline has actually started."

The IPC spokesman was commenting on a statement by its representative in Damascus that oil would start flowing through the pipelines within 48 hours. The flow stopped when IPC installations in Syria were sabotaged Nov. 4 a few days after British-French forces began the invasion of Suez.

Two other pipelines one 16 inches and the other 12 run through Syria to the Mediterranean at Tripoli.

"Before Suez we used to pump 25 million tons a year across Syria. That means we should be pumping about 40 per cent of our normal output as soon as the other two pipelines are working. We have no knowledge in London of any change in this estimate."

Chamber's Rap At School Bill Hit By Folsom

WASHINGTON (AP)— Secretary of Welfare Folsom says the U.S. Chamber of Commerce has made "seriously misleading and inaccurate statements" in opposing federal aid for school construction.

Folsom, a former director of the business organization, in turn was accused by a Chamber spokesman of "advocating the principle of federal survillance over" U. S. state school systems.

A House Education subcommittee is considering an administration bill which would provide $1.3 billion in federal aid for school construction over the next four years. The Chamber has called such a program "unwise."

Folsom in a letter to John S. Coleman president of the Chamber said "there is no sound or justifiable basis" for a chamber charge that "federal aid advocates obviously are attempting to establish the principle of federal financing and control from which they can leap into actual control of the schools."

Folsom said "The proposed legislation specifically prohibits any federal direction supervision or control over the personnel curriculum or program of instruction of any school or school system."

Ohio Reserve Bank Showing Increases

CLEVELAND (AP) — Federal Reserve member banks in the Fourth District had total resources of $15.3 billion last year, compared with $14½ billion in 1955, President Wilbur D. Fulton of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland announced today.

Total earnings were $490 million in 1956 compared with $429 million the previous year, Fulton said in releasing the bank's annual statement of operating ratios of member banks in 1956.

Loans made by the banks increased $771 million last year and cash assets were $260 million higher, but holdings of U. S. government securities showed a decrease of $428 million, the statement said.

Government Aide Explains Job Of His 'Generalists'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Don't let the fellow at the next desk look down his nose at you because he's a specialist. Tell him you're a generalist.

The word saw the light at House Appropriation Committee hearings on the civil defense budget. The proceedings show that Administrator Val Peterson was asked what was meant by the listing of generalists on his staff.

"Is this a superspecialist?" asked Rep. Yates (D-Ill).

"No," Peterson replied. "This is a man who is jack of all trades. He can go out and do business in most of those fields."

Said Rep. Thomas (D-Tex): "We can all qualify."

Panel Counsel Mum On Plans

'Number Of Different' Outfits Said Involved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators plan to look into complaints of labor union racketeering in Ohio.

This was disclosed today by Robert F. Kennedy, counsel for the Senate committee now investigating labor rackets in Portland, Ore.

"We've had enough complaints to justify sending investigators to Ohio," Kennedy said. "Just when they will go I can't say."

Asked whether the Ohio complaints concerned the Teamsters Union, now being investigated, Kennedy replied, "No, there are a number of different unions."

Kennedy declined to specify where in Ohio the committee investigators would go.

Meanwhile, Senate investigators prepared to subpoena Teamsters Union President Dave Beck and seize his financial records unless he agrees quickly to "be cooperative."

The teamster chief returned unheralded from Europe Sunday, dodged reporters in New York, refused to be interviewed in Chicago, and flew on to his home in Seattle.

Arriving there, Beck said "I don't think so" when he was asked by newsmen whether he would wait for a subpoena. He said he expected to go to Washington "very soon." Beck declined to answer any other questions.

Beck's Teamsters Union, the nation's biggest, has been the focus so far of a special Senate committee's search for evidence of racketeering influences in labor and industry.

For the last two weeks, the committee has received testimony that West Coast teamster officials were linked with underworld figures and some public office holders in efforts to take over vice and gambling operations in Portland, Ore. The hearings are in recess until Tuesday.

* * *

THE COMMITTEE has said it wants to question Beck about charges that union funds were used to pay some of his personal bills, and about the activities of some of his lieutenants.

Informed of Beck's return, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the investigating group, said:

"I just assume he (Beck) will get in touch with the committee now that he's back."

Other committee sources said a subpoena was being drafted to summon Beck before the panel.

The hearings are to resume Tuesday with testimony from Clyde Crosby, Teamsters Union boss in Oregon, and William M. Langley, district attorney in Multnomah County. Both are under indictment.

Telephone Repair Crews Keep Busy In Scioto County

PORTSMOUTH (AP) — Thirty-one crews of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. are still at work repairing cables in an effort to fully restore telephone service to Scioto County.

Since the recent end of the strike against the company by the Communications Workers of America, workmen have been repairing cables slashed during the long period of labor strife.

Thus far, about 25 per cent of the 17,000 telephones in the city and county have been restored to full service. With the many crews at work repairing the cables, company officials hoped a higher percentage of phones can be in service by the end of the week.

50 Ohio Farmers Flying To Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifty Ohio farmers fly into Washington today to talk farm problems with their congressmen and Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

The farmers are members of the Ohio Farm Bureau, which has been sending such a delegation to Washington annually for the last seven years.

As it happens, the Ohioans are arriving during a crisis for farm legislation. The house is engaged in debating the most important bills of this type for the session—the attempt to provide emergency legislation to reduce overproduction of corn and other feed grains.

Several items of personal property were left to a grandnephew, David H. Bolender, and to a nephew, Robert Bolender.

The will provides that the remainder of the estate, both real and personal property, be converted to cash by the executors whereupon a bequest of $500 will be made to a niece, Mabel Killian. A number of smaller individual bequests of cash were also made.

The remainder of the estate is left in quarter part to the Evangelical Orphan's Home in Flat Rock, O., a quarter part to the Haven and Hubbard Old Peoples Home at New Carlisle, Ind., a quarter part to the Evangelical United Brethren Campground Association of Stoutsville, and a quarter part to be divided equally among 14 local churches.

Boni and Blalack, 29, a San Marino, Calif., investment broker and social figure, were married here Saturday in the climax to an eight-month romance. They met on a blind date.

Boni walked down the aisle on an artificial leg. A cape on her dress hid the missing arm.

City's New Power Sweeper Ready For Street Service

Circleville, keeping pace with the modern trend, now has a one-man street sanitation department —a new Wayne power street sweeper which requires only one person to operate it but which will do the work of a whole crew of men.

The vehicle arrived here last week and already has been put into service. According to Dewey Speakman, city service director, trial performances indicate that the outfit will really do the job.

Equipped with all the essentials of a modern sweeper machine, including brushes, a big hopper and a sprinkling system, the vehicle cost the city approximately $10,000.

"Engineered with all the advantages necessary for essential and economical street sanitation work, the machine should go a long way in solving the street cleaning problem here," Speakman said.

* * *

DESIGNED to travel with traffic, the Wayne has the speed to take loads of debres long distances to disposal points and return quickly to the job.

A three-wheeler, the machine is designed especially for easy steering so that the sharpest curbs and gutters can be cleaned. This easy operation makes it possible for the vehicle to clean between parked cars.

For better and safer driving, the sweeper has an open type driver's seat which allows the operator to have full view of the street and traffic in front of him.

Another feature of the sweeper is a giant three cubic-yard capacity hopper which allows the vehicle to clean more curb miles with fewer trips to the disposal point.

Hydraulically operated hopper doors permits debres to be dumped quickly and neatly.

Much of the cleaning is done by a front gutter broom which picks up dirt by rotating on a shaft and a suspension broom which cleans depressions and rises in the street, both doing the job with amazing effectiveness.

* * *

THE SWEEPER will be operated by Henry Caudill on a full time basis once weather has cleared up.

According to Speakman most of the streets in the business section will be done at night or early in the morning when there is a minimum of parked cars. Cleaning in outlying areas will be conducted in the daytime, Speakman said.

Although no definate schedule has been set up yet, Speakman added that the machine will be kept in operation as much as possible and according to weather conditions.

Local Service Officer James P. Shea received applications for this area at about 10 a. m. Official filing got underway at 1 p. m.

Delivery of forms here was part of a program in which applications were delivered to every section of the state. Distribution was conducted by the Ohio National Guard and the state patrol.

Shea said that an overflow of applicants is expected at his office for the first few days of filing. His office hours for this week will be as follows:

* * *

MONDAY, 1-5 p. m. and 7-10 p. m.; Tuesday and Wednesday, 9-12 noon, 1-5 p. m. and 7-10 p. m.; Thursday and Friday, 9-12 noon and 1-6 p. m.; Saturday, 8-12 noon.

The bonuses are payable to veterans who saw service between June 25, 1950 and July 19, 1953. They must have lived in Ohio at least one year before entering service and have been Ohio residents on the day of induction.

Eligible servicemen will receive $10 a month for each month of domestic service, and $15 a month for each month of sea duty, Alaska service, or foreign service. The maximum amount anyone can receive is $400.

Relatives of deceased veterans who qualify must write direct to the fund for application forms. The fund's address is 293 East Long Street, Columbus, 15, Ohio.

Commssioners Still Ponder Park Lot Job

The courthouse parking lot? It's still stalled.

No decision has yet been made as to the future of the controversial project, county commissioner Harley Mace announced today.

Mace said the county commissioners planned to take "some action" on the suspended project before construction weather arrived. However, he added he didn't think any decision would be forthcoming this month.

The plan to make a parking lot of the old courthouse lawn was launched last Fall. Cold weather and a temporary injunction halted work on the lot in December.

An injunction which had been granted in a taxpayer's suit was lifted in January. However, as yet the county commissioners have given no indication of what they plan to do in the matter .

The project was launched by commissioners who are no longer in office.

Annual Audit Made Of City's Accounts

An annual audit of City of Circleville offices is now being made by the State Auditor's Office.

Examiners Ed Hecker of Circleville and Robert Lambert of Chillicothe are conducting the audit which is required periodically of municipal corporations by state law.

A Circleville man will be among those present when the Norfolk and Western Railway opens its annual Better Service Conference.

Nearly 500 delegates from all over the territory served by the N & W are expected to attend.

GE To Offer Salk Shots For Local Employes

General Electric lamp division employes at the Circleville Lamp Plant will have an opportunity soon to start taking Company-sponsored polio vaccine immunizations, it was announced today by E. G. Grigg, plant manager.

Only a nominal fee of $1 each will be charged for the three shots. Employes will be given time off from work to take the shots, which will be given by plant physicians, Dr. J. M. Hedges, Dr. F. W. Anderson and their nursing staff. Grigg said:

"Our program is being conducted with the approval of Pickaway County Medical Association as part of a community-wide effort to immunize as many people as possible against polio. All 760 of our employes can take advantage of this program if they desire."

* * *

HE POINTED out that the following people have been especially recommended for immunization, according to experts.

1. All persons from six months to 40 years of age;

2. Pregnant women of any age;

3. Parents with children 16 years old or younger, regardless of the age of the parent.

"We expect to get started," Grigg explained, "on March 13th, so that employes receive at least two shots before the polio season."

C. A. Bolender Will Terms Revealed

The will of the late Charles A. Bolender of Circleville was filed in Pickaway County Probate Court Saturday.

A preliminary estimate of the valuation of the estate was set at $150,000.

Robert Bolender of Circleville Route 2, Nellie Morrison of 3040 Olive St., Columbus, and Lillian Stevens of 819 E. Stewart Ave., Columbus, were appointed executors under terms of the will.

The will provides that Mr. Bolender's widow, Jeannette, will receive 11 acres of land in Circleville Township. The property is specified as located along Kingston Pike, bounded on the south by E. Ohio St. and on the north by Route 56 and E. Mound St.

* * *

A BEQUEST of property was also made jointly to three nieces, Bethel Bolender, Lillian Welch Stevens, and Nellie Morrison. They were each given one third share in fee simple of a house at 227 E. Franklin St.

A bequest of any and all unpaid notes or mortgages held by the late Mr. Bolender against property at 819 Stewart Ave., Columbus, was made to his niece Lillian Welch Stevens.

Several items of personal property were left to a grandnephew, David H. Bolender, and to a nephew, Robert Bolender.

The will provides that the remainder of the estate, both real and personal property, be converted to cash by the executors whereupon a bequest of $500 will be made to a niece, Mabel Killian. A number of smaller individual bequests of cash were also made.

The remainder of the estate is left in quarter part to the Evangelical Orphan's Home in Flat Rock, O., a quarter part to the Haven and Hubbard Old Peoples Home at New Carlisle, Ind., a quarter part to the Evangelical United Brethren Campground Association of Stoutsville, and a quarter part to be divided equally among 14 local churches.

The churches named as legatees in the will include the following: The First Methodist, Presbyterian, St. Philip's Episcopal, Trinity Evangelical Lutheran, First EUB, Calvary EUB, Church of Christ in Christian Union, Church of Brethren, Colored Baptist, Colored AME, Pilgrim Holiness, Church of Nazarene, all of Circleville; the Prayer View Church of Saltcreek Township, and the St. Paul EUB of Washington Township.

The bequests to the churches are to be invested by the trustees of each in securities and the income used to meet current church expenses. After five years, the respective trustees may use the bequests for whatever church purposes they deem best.

New Bride Wears Ring On Right Hand

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Mrs. Charles M. Blalack, the pretty newlywed, wears that shiny ring on her right hand.

She's the former Boni Buehler, 27, the onetime airline stewardess who lost her left arm and leg in a 1953 speedboat accident.

Boni and Blalack, 29, a San Marino, Calif., investment broker and social figure, were married here Saturday in the climax to an eight-month romance. They met on a blind date.

Boni walked down the aisle on an artificial leg. A cape on her dress hid the missing arm.

City's New Power Sweeper Ready For Street Service

Circleville, keeping pace with the modern trend, now has a one-man street sanitation department —a new Wayne power street sweeper which requires only one person to operate it but which will do the work of a whole crew of men.

The vehicle arrived here last week and already has been put into service. According to Dewey Speakman, city service director, trial performances indicate that the outfit will really do the job.

Equipped with all the essentials of a modern sweeper machine, including brushes, a big hopper and a sprinkling system, the vehicle cost the city approximately $10,000.

"Engineered with all the advantages necessary for essential and economical street sanitation work, the machine should go a long way in solving the street cleaning problem here," Speakman said.

* * *

DESIGNED to travel with traffic, the Wayne has the speed to take loads of debres long distances to disposal points and return quickly to the job.

A three-wheeler, the machine is designed especially for easy steering so that the sharpest curbs and gutters can be cleaned. This easy operation makes it possible for the vehicle to clean between parked cars.

For better and safer driving, the sweeper has an open type driver's seat which allows the operator to have full view of the street and traffic in front of him.

Another feature of the sweeper is a giant three cubic-yard capacity hopper which allows the vehicle to clean more curb miles with fewer trips to the disposal point.

Hydraulically operated hopper doors permits debres to be dumped quickly and neatly.

Much of the cleaning is done by a front gutter broom which picks up dirt by rotating on a shaft and a suspension broom which cleans depressions and rises in the street, both doing the job with amazing effectiveness.

* * *

THE SWEEPER will be operated by Henry Caudill on a full time basis once weather has cleared up.

According to Speakman most of the streets in the business section will be done at night or early in the morning when there is a minimum of parked cars. Cleaning in outlying areas will be conducted in the daytime, Speakman said.

Although no definate schedule has been set up yet, Speakman added that the machine will be kept in operation as much as possible and according to weather conditions.

Pickaway County Korean Vets Now Filing For State Bonus Pay

The first of Pickaway County's estimated 900 veterans of the Korean conflict started filling out applications for their state bonus today at the veterans service office in the courthouse.

Local Service Officer James P. Shea received applications for this area at about 10 a. m. Official filing got underway at 1 p. m.

Delivery of forms here was part of a program in which applications were delivered to every section of the state. Distribution was conducted by the Ohio National Guard and the state patrol.

Shea said that an overflow of applicants is expected at his office for the first few days of filing. His office hours for this week will be as follows:

* * *

MONDAY, 1-5 p. m. and 7-10 p. m.; Tuesday and Wednesday, 9-12 noon, 1-5 p. m. and 7-10 p. m.; Thursday and Friday, 9-12 noon and 1-6 p. m.; Saturday, 8-12 noon.

The bonuses are payable to veterans who saw service between June 25, 1950 and July 19, 1953. They must have lived in Ohio at least one year before entering service and have been Ohio residents on the day of induction.

Eligible servicemen will receive $10 a month for each month of domestic service, and $15 a month for each month of sea duty, Alaska service, or foreign service. The maximum amount anyone can receive is $400.

Relatives of deceased veterans who qualify must write direct to the fund for application forms. The fund's address is 293 East Long Street, Columbus, 15, Ohio.

Commssioners Still Ponder Park Lot Job

The courthouse parking lot? It's still stalled.

No decision has yet been made as to the future of the controversial project, county commissioner Harley Mace announced today.

Mace said the county commissioners planned to take "some action" on the suspended project before construction weather arrived. However, he added he didn't think any decision would be forthcoming this month.

The plan to make a parking lot of the old courthouse lawn was launched last Fall. Cold weather and a temporary injunction halted work on the lot in December.

An injunction which had been granted in a taxpayer's suit was lifted in January. However, as yet the county commissioners have given no indication of what they plan to do in the matter.

The project was launched by commissioners who are no longer in office.

2. Pregnant women of any age;
3. Parents with children 16 years old or younger, regardless of the age of the parent.

"We expect to get started," Grigg explained, "on March 13th, so that employes receive at least two shots before the polio season."

Suez Reopening Due To Revive Old Problems

Action In Syrian Oilfields Also To Bring New Troubles

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Reopening of the Suez Canal and the oil pipelines across Syria will also reopen some old problems and intensify some new ones.

1. It will enlarge the question mark tied to the hike in gasoline and fuel oil prices and make the chance of price wars this summer more of a bogeyman for the oil industry.

2. It will fan the fight over importing sizable quantities of oil into the United States.

3. It will reshuffle oil tanker routes around the world.

4. It will test whether all that Europe needs to extend its industrial boom is less costly oil than the American variety.

Oilmen say return of Mideast Oil to Europe in volume isn't likely to change:

1. The desire to become as independent as possible of any future closure of the canal and to look for other pipeline routes for the same reason.

2. Plans to step up atomic energy programs in Europe.

3. Long-term plans of American companies to invest still more in Mideast oil production in spite of increased tension.

4. The race to build up world tanker fleets—especially the giant vessels that can carry oil around Africa or South America as economically as the small ones do through the Suez or Panama canals.

The National Petroleum Council, set up to advise the Interior Department, reports that so far this year nine million deadweight tons of additional tanker capacity have been ordered, bringing to 38 million tons the amount now projected. It figures the world's shipyard tanker capacity is now fully booked through 1961. If all the other vessels talked about turn into blueprints the yards would be busy through 1964.

The fight over the size of oil imports into the United States has boiled up again.

Arthur S. Flemming, outgoing director of mobilization, ordered oil importers to report their plans for the first six months after the canal is cleared. Independent domestic oil producers bitterly oppose sizable importation of Mideast and South American oil to the United States.

The first bank in the 13 original colonies was chartered in Boston in 1686.

General Motors recently presented an assembly for the students of Circleville High School. "The Wonders of Modern Science" being the topic, the speaker demonstrated many new discoveries which will soon become a part of everyday life.

He also stressed the ever-increasing need for young scientists in the world of tomorrow.

Tryouts were held recently for those wishing to participate in the Ohio Music Education Association Adjudications, to be held next Saturday at Capital University. In the contest, students will be graded according to their instrumental and vocal ability.

The following musicians were selected to represent CHS at Capital University:

Susan Stocklen, piano solo; Betty Lou Leist, piano solo; Carol Ann Johnson, piano solo; Carolyn Ferguson, basson-solo; Lois Wittich, soprano solo; Edith Jones, soprano solo; Joe Caldwell, alto saxophone solo; Joe Caldwell, baritone horn solo; CHS Girls' Sextet.

Truman Eberly, CHS music director, and Barbara Samuel, accompanist, will also be a part of the group.

Two members of the CHS choir were participants in the 10th Annual Folk Festival at Wilmington College. Lois Wittich and Carol Ann Johnson were members of the 225 voice All-Ohio High School Folk Chorus directed by Willis W. Beckett and John Loessi of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. After a weekend of rehearsal they presented a concert in conjunction with the All-Ohio College Orchestra for the finale of the festival.

Woman Is Held In Dynamite Plot

SELDEN, N. Y. (AP) — A mother of three children is under mental observation after failure of an alleged plot to dynamite her husband for his $5,000 insurance.

Mrs. Elvira M. Hough, 35, was committed to Central Islip, N. Y. State Hospital. Police said she tried to hire a man to rig up a dynamite charge on the family car which would kill her husband, Williard Hough, 31.

The other man involved, Oscar Farrell, 52, told authorities.

The husband, a crane operator, was stunned by the scheme.

"I just can't believe it," he said. "I thought the police were joking when they told me."

State Board of Education Due for Legislative Study

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio's state board of education will come under the glare of a legislative spotlight this week.

Chairman T. K. Owens (R-Jackson) of the House Education Committee opens hearings Wednesday on proposals to cut the number of board members elected in the state's 23 congressional districts.

One bill proposes a seven-member board appointed statewide by the governor. The other would create a board of nine members appointed from the nine appellate court districts existing Jan. 1, 1955, before another district was added.

A third bill pending in the Senate proposes a nine - member board appointed at large. Senate leaders said they might await outcome of House hearings before considering that measure.

Legislators said that among other things they want to determine whether complaints that the board is unwieldy and ineffective stem on the board to obtain a $25,000 a year state superintendent of public instruction more than a year after the board was organized, Jan. 3, 1956. Members of the first state board were elected in November, 1955.

Lawmakers are divided on the question of the board's size. Hearings could shift legislative sentiment either way, some speculated.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens) asserted the Legislature may have made a mistake in creating a large board. It was the Senate two years ago that insisted on expanding a house bill for a nine-member board to 23 members.

"I am inclined to believe we made a mistake," Mechem said.

Gov. C. William O'Neill told newsmen he was inclined to agree with Mechem. O'Neill said that "the board has not accomplished what it should and has been unwieldy and not effective."

House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan) opposes a change in board membership at this time.

"A board of that short life," he said, "ought to be given a reasonable length of time to demonstrate whether it can be effective."

Of the board members, he said: "Their chief function is to employ a superintendent. Then they lay down policy procedure and move into the background. They are not an administrative group. Until they get a superintendent, they have been doing some administrative work that is not primarily their function."

Chairman Robert A. Manchester of Youngstown denied claims that his board was unwieldy and ineffective. He indicated that the Legislature must share responsibility for failure to get a state school superintendent.

The board hired Harold S. Vincent, head of Milwaukee schools, for the Ohio job but recently yielded to his request to drop the contract. Vincent said he cooled because legality of his employment was questioned.

Statute requires major state appointees to be qualified Ohio voters. That means they must reside in Ohio for at least a year. Also questioned was the board's authority to set the state superintendent's salary. Attorneys said the Legislature must do that.

Proposals are pending in the Legislature to solve those two legal questions but enactment will take time. Legislators pointed out that those two hurdles have caused the governor difficulty in filling his cabinet.

O'Neill, a former attorney general, imported Charles M. Noble from the New Jersey Turnpike Commission, as his $30,000 a year secretary in charge of highways. Noble will be eligible for appointment as state director of highways after living in Ohio a year. But O'Neill has yet to find a $25,000 a year man to run the state's hospitals and prisons because of the legal hurdles.

Legislators assert that regardless of the State School Board's problems, members probably could prevent any change in its size this session by hiring a state school superintendent within the next two months. Unless that takes place, they aren't too certain about the course of pending bills in an unpredictable Legislature.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks

without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

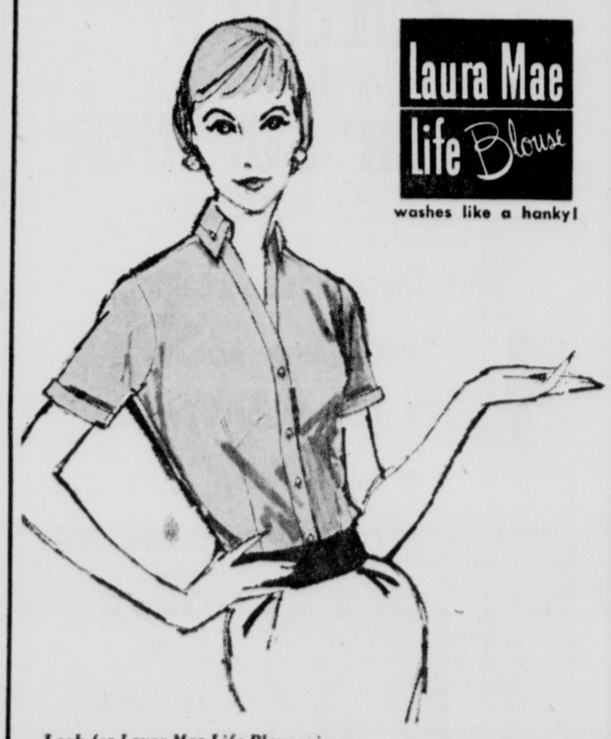

And, of all laxatives, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID'S great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAID'S stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

CINCINNATI (AP)—A small boy and a cigarette lighter combined for a fire Sunday that ate out the downstairs of an apartment and caused $3,000 damage.

Fire officials said Daniel Bryson, 3, who was playing with the lighter in an alcove where newspapers were kept, ran to his parents, saying, "I've started a fire in the kitchen."

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

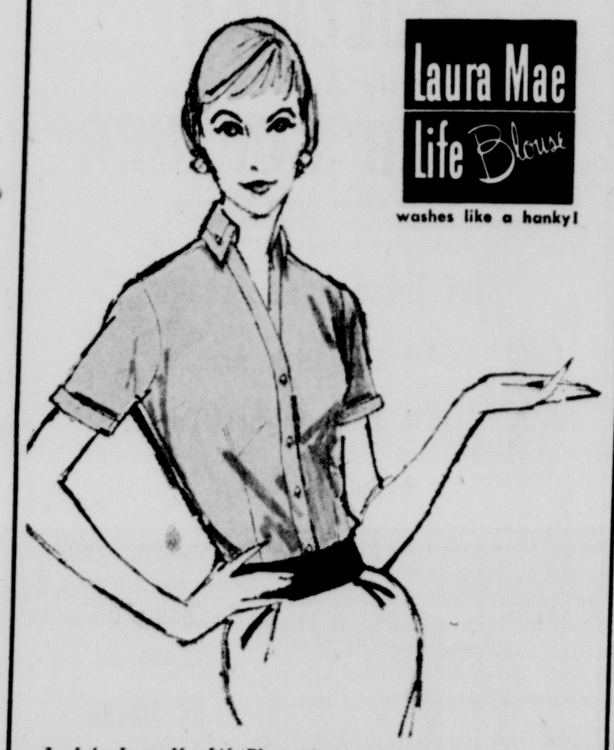

And, of all laxatives, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID'S great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAID'S stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

No Longer A Nation Without Limits

Population pressures, now described as explosive, are presenting the United States with new problems and new challenges in almost every realm of human endeavor.

A recent Census Bureau estimate places the present U. S. population at 170 million, approximately 20 million more than the peak predicted only 20 years ago for the year 2000. A 1975 population of 215 million is now predicted.

The explosion has been brought about by the higher birth rates which have accompanied prosperity, declining death rates and greatly extended life expectancies.

The problems posed probably are as obvious as they are numerous: new schools and other public facilities all the way from rubbish incinerators to playgrounds, along with taxes to support them; highways, streets and parking facilties to accommodate 1975's predicte d100 million automobiles, nearly twice the present number; revisions of both domestic and foreign policy should this become a "have-not" nation in a world running out of new frontiers.

Of the challenges, perhaps the most imperative have to do with land and water conservation. The question has been raised many times whether the time is approaching when the nation's arable lands will not produce enough food for the populace. And in many sections of the country, the watershed problem already has become acute.

This is a young nation, but no longer a nation of seemingly limitlses natural resources. And while science and human ingenuity may be depended upon to provide new sources of energy, or synthetic food substitutes, or any number of other miracles, the time for dependence on technology assuredly is not yet here. Nor is it foreseeable.

In many respects, the problems and challenges will be the concern of future generations. But they also deserve to be a present, pressing concern.

Headaches At $40 Per Ache

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—There was a time when the American dream called for a bathroom in every home, an electric light in every room, a car in every garage and a chicken in every pot.

This was the goal of prosperity, and the hope was that it all could be won by working a 5-day, 40-hour week.

How old-fashioned that dream seems now!

The goal now is two telephones and two television sets in every home, a bathroom for every bedroom, a radio and at least two floor lamps for every room, and at least two cars for every garage. All this is supposed to be achieved now on a 5-day, 35-hour week.

The kitchen that once contained a single gas stove and an icebox now overflows with an electric stove, an electric oven, a broiler and a refrigerator as big as a closet. The freezer is so big it has to be put in the basement.

Once the American home was kept clean with a dustmop and a broom. Today, it has a dustmop, a broom, a carpet sweeper, and a vacuum cleaner and 37 different attachments.

Remember the first pioneer in your neighborhood who bought a room air-conditioner? Now it isn't enough to air-condition even the entire house. At least one of the family cars should be air-conditioned, too.

Where will it all end?

Why, we aren't even half-way to happiness yet? In the last campaign, Vice President Richard Nixon foresaw a day when Americans might work only a 4-day week.

When this day arrives and the nation's long-range, high-speed highway network is completed, other crystal ball gazers foresee the rise of the two-home family which will shuttle between its dwelling in the city and its weekend refuge in the country.

Each family home (the one in the city, the one in the country) will, of course, need a broom, a dustmop, a carpet sweeper, a vacuum cleaner, two telephones, two television sets, a radio and a bathroom for every bedroom, three kinds of stoves, a refrigerator, a freezer, air-conditioners, and a garage that will hold two or three cars.

This automatically will double the present prosperity, as new automatic factories stamp out fresh millions of the material gadgets that spell out America's high standard of living.

But prosperity always has a price tag on it.

One price of the existing prosperity may be reflected in the fact that one out of every two hospital beds in the country is occupied by a mental patient, and one out of every 12 children born today will suffer a mental ailment.

The sale of aspirin has risen steadily with the rise in living standards, and some wag has figures out that for every $40 earned in the United States somebody gets a headache.

The price of prosperity, worry, is also shown by the widespread increase of the number of people who are unable to slumber without taking a sleep capsule, and who can't face the duties of the day unless they gulp "happy pills" as if they were peanuts.

Half the people in America who are sick now are sick because they haven't been able to find contentment while surrounded by more creature comforts than any other people in history.

The one-home family now can get by with a single family doctor. If the hypertension, ulcer and heart attack problems are doubled in the one-home family home, the two-home family home probably will require at least two doctors.

Such being the case, if we are to go on madly trying to eat higher and higher on the hog, perhaps the educational goal should be fewer kindergartens and more medical universities to turn out more physicians to write more "happy pill" prescriptions.

"Greatest Thing In The World"

By George Sokolsky

I received a most instructive letter from Miss Charlotte Jones of Dallas, Texas, which I am herewith reproducing in full as a contribution to Americana. Here is the letter:

"Dear Mr. Sokolsky:

"There are too many people saying that Elvis is going to die out. When Elvis dies out is when the sun quits burning.

"You say everybody is forgotten that is once great; George Washington has never been forgotten and nobody can ever be as great a president or as long remembered as he. Nobody can ever take his place or do what he did. Well, it's the same with Elvis. He'll always be remembered and nobody has ever or ever will do the same thing as Elvis has. Elvis is the king of popularity and we (teens of America) love him and we'll see he lives forever. Not his body but his name. Adults won't admit he's so great, because they're jealous! They know that their top singers weren't as great as Elvis. They're mad because their taste isn't quite as good as ours.

"Look at James Dean, been dead for a year and he's bigger now than he ever was.

"God gifted Elvis to us and you oughta thank him, not tear down, the greatest thing the world has ever known; Elvis Presley!!!!

Scornfully yours,
Charlotte Jones

"P.S.: And if you're over 30, you're old. You're certainly not young."

It shows the advantage of an education, that Miss Jones compares Elvis Presley's accomplishments with those of George Washington. Of course, as history goes, Washington has not been so long remembered; he only died in 1799 which is not long ago compared with Alexander the Great or Julius Caesar or, on the peaceful side, with Hammurabi, Moses or Solon. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that Miss Jones has a point and that George Washington is today better remembered than many another president and plenty of kings.

I find it hard quite to realize what is meant by "the king of popularity." Does Miss Jones really believe that Elvis is more popular than President Eisenhower or General Douglas MacArthur or the Queen of England or Dr. Albert Schweitzer? If that is so, then why should men devote themselves to noble needs and great accomplishments? Why not just warble an old Civil War song and twang a banjo and achieve the accolade that way?

Apparently all adults are jealous of this Elvis, otherwise they would acknowledge that his voice is superior to Caruso's; his profile to John Barrymore's; his acting to E. H. Sothern's. Miss Jones's knowledge must be like Teddy Nadler's who said something the other day about having a tremendous knowledge of classical music. But what has he done with that knowledge? That is always the question.

I have no idea how old Charlotte Jones is. She does not introduce herself with vital statistics. But she does believe that she and her "teens" have better taste than her elders, by which she means that she likes what she likes and that anyone who disagrees is a square, a jerk or a dope. Could be.

Yet, I wonder what would happen to such a hero worshipper if she spent six weeks next summer at Tanglewood listening to Bach, Mozart, Beethoven, Brahms and Tchaikovsky. All long-hair, it is true. But music is music and is supposed to thrill the heart of civilized and savage. It would be an interesting experiment, like bringing Tarzan to the Colony Restaurant or Pavillon, to eat food as designed by Escoffier.

The real point of this letter is that it displays no cultural background. I heard Elvis sing and I believe that perhaps in five years or so, he might be able to carry a tune as well as Bing Crosby. But in 50 years, he could not make the chorus of the Metropolitan Opera.

The fault undoubtedly is in a school system which gives the child so little cultural background, so little basis for taste and so little understanding of beauty. Rock-N-roll, which is a musical reversion to the tom-tom of the jungle, can stir so many of our young to ecstasy only because they know no better. It is curious that in a Western country a child could write "the greatest thing the world has ever known; Elvis Presley." I used to hear them say that that title went to Jesus. How times do change!

DIET AND HEALTH

Rib Often A Casualty When You Have A Fall

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WITH everyone scurrying about so busily these days, falls are an ever-present hazard, especially for elderly people. And a fall frequently means a fractured rib.

Even if there is no swelling or deformity noticeable, a mere tender spot might indicate a broken rib. This is especially likely if breathing causes pain at a central spot.

Generally, rib fractures occur in the lower part of the chest toward the sides.

Broken Ends

Broken ends of a rib are subjected continually to the motion of breathing. If the broken ends touch the underlying sensory nerves, there is apt to be pain with every breath.

Fortunately, nature helps to heal broken ribs. The soft tissues and adjoining ribs serve as splints and usually immobilize the fractured bones sufficiently to permit healing.

Internal Injury

But whether there is pain or not, a fractured rib requires the prompt attention of a doctor. There's always the possibility of an internal injury. Then, too, if left to heal by itself without adequate care, a respiratory infection might develop.

If there is no pain or wound, you probably won't have to apply a bandage.

However, if there is pain, a cravat bandage usually is advisable until the patient gets to a doctor. The bandage should be about two inches wide around the lower portion of the chest.

Additional Bandages

Sometimes it might be necessary to apply additional bandages both above and below the original one. The main thing is to immobilize the chest. This is best done by bandaging the lower portion even if the injury is well above that.

Bandaging, however, is only a temporary measure to relieve pain until a doctor can be consulted.

If the bandage doesn't relieve the pain sufficiently, heat may be applied to the site.

The best thing, however, is to get medical attention as promptly as possible.

DROODLES

By ROGER PRICE

"SHOOTIN IRON"

My good friend, Montana Tex., liked this Droodle so much he's going to brand it into the hides of the ten thousand head of Cattle he just bought. Up until a few months ago Montana never had any Cattle on his Ranch in Texas but last year he discovered land on his oil so he figured it was safe to have some livestock around the place. But Montana is concerned about Texas. According to him there are just too many Oil Wells down there. He claims the State is getting so slippery from the overflowing oil that one of these days when nobody's looking it's going to slide right down into the Gulf of Mexico. Sounds like a catastrophe and I don't blame Montana for worrying. Maybe instead of Cattle he should have bought ten thousand head of Salmon.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower made a pitch last year for long-range foreign aid. It wasn't a very strong pitch and he lost. This year, with some outside help, he may try again.

Congress has steadfastly clung to the idea of aid on a year-by-year basis ever since 1948 when, with the Marshall Plan, this country first set up foreign assistance on a big scale.

Economic aid is designed to help backward and underdeveloped countries. But the year-by-year arrangement prevents this country and the receiving nations from planning developments which takes years to complete. For example: river and harbor and waterpower development, or highways and railroads.

So in 1956 Eisenhower asked Congress to approve a foreign aid program which would permit carrying on some projects for as much as 10 years. He didn't ask for money for 10 years, all in a lump. But he wanted congressional promises that would make long-range planning possible.

He ran into stiff opposition and apparently backed away. Neither he nor his aides made much of a fight. Instead, he concentrated on trying to get Congress to give him the full $4,900,000,000 he has asked for one year. Congress didn't go along on that either. It cut more than a billion off his request.

But there was agreement between Eisenhower and Congress that it was time for some fairly thorough studies on the whole problem of foreign aid. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee hired 11 research organizations and assigned 10 men familiar with foreign affairs to do the job.

Two different groups appointed by Eisenhower went to work. They were made up of representatives of business, labor, agriculture and the public. One was headed by Benjamin F. Fairless, steel executive, and the other, continuing advisory body, by Eric Johnston.

The Senate study reports have been pouring out in recent weeks. Most of them favor long-term aid. In the past week the Fairless and Johnston groups have reported. They favor long-term aid.

So if Eisenhower wants to propose a 10-year program again this year he has a lot of support — at least outside Congress. It's still questionable the full Congress will go along with the idea.

And right now inside the Eisenhower administration it is understood some of the President's top advisers are chilly to long-range commitments.

Johnston's group expressed belief there is wide misunderstanding in this country on the amount and kind of aid being given. This is a brief breakdown:

Of the $3,800,000,000 billion voted by Congress last year, about two billions is in military assistance; another $1,200,000,000 in economic help to the nations getting military assistance; and 250 millions for economic development in neutral countries.

The remainder goes to international agencies, to technical assistance, into presidential funds for emergency relief, or into the cost of administering the program.

The Johnston group reported that roughly two thirds of the non-military aid goes to six countries: Turkey, Pakistan, Iran, South Korea, Viet Nam, and the Nationalist republic of China. They have a population of 170 million.

The remaining third goes to underdeveloped countries having a 900 million population.

It shows the advantage of an education, that Miss Jones compares Elvis Presley's accomplishments with those of George Washington. Of course, as history goes, Washington has not been so long remembered; he only died in 1799 which is not long ago compared with Alexander the Great or Julius Caesar or, on the peaceful side, with Hammurabi, Moses or Solon. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that Miss Jones has a point and that George Washington is today better remembered than many another president and plenty of kings.

I find it hard quite to realize what is meant by "the king of popularity." Does Miss Jones really believe that Elvis is more popular than President Eisenhower or General Douglas MacArthur or the Queen of England or Dr. Albert Schweitzer? If that is so, then why should men devote themselves to noble needs and great accomplishments? Why not just warble an old Civil War song and twang a banjo and achieve the accolade that way?

Apparently all adults are jealous of this Elvis, otherwise they would acknowledge that his voice is superior to Caruso's; his profile to John Barrymore's; his acting to E. H. Sothern's. Miss Jones's knowledge must be like Teddy Nadler's who said something the other day about having a tremendous knowledge of classical music. But what has he done with that knowledge? That is always the question.

I have no idea how old Charlotte Jones is. She does not introduce herself with vital statistics. But she does believe that she and her "teens" have better taste than her elders, by which she means that she likes what she likes and that anyone who disagrees is a square, a jerk or a dope. Could be.

Yet, I wonder what would happen to such a hero worshipper if she spent six weeks next summer at Tanglewood listening to Bach, Mozart, Beethoven, Brahms and Tchaikovsky. All long-hair, it is true. But music is music and is supposed to thrill the heart of civilized and savage. It would be an interesting experiment, like bringing Tarzan to the Colony Restaurant or Pavillon, to eat food as designed by Escoffier.

The real point of this letter is that it displays no cultural background. I heard Elvis sing and I believe that perhaps in five years or so, he might be able to carry a tune as well as Bing Crosby. But in 50 years, he could not make the chorus of the Metropolitan Opera.

The fault undoubtedly is in a school system which gives the child so little cultural background, so little basis for taste and so little understanding of beauty. Rock-N-roll, which is a musical reversion to the tom-tom of the jungle, can stir so many of our young to ecstasy only because they know no better. It is curious that in a Western country a child could write "the greatest thing the world has ever known; Elvis Presley." I used to hear them say that title went to Jesus. How times do change!

Rib Often A Casualty When You Have A Fall

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WITH everyone scurrying about so busily these days, falls are an ever-present hazard, especially for elderly people. And a fall frequently means a fractured rib.

Even if there is no swelling or deformity noticeable, a mere tender spot might indicate a broken rib. This is especially likely if breathing causes pain at a central spot.

Generally, rib fractures occur in the lower part of the chest toward the sides.

Broken Ends

Broken ends of a rib are subjected continually to the motion of breathing. If the broken ends touch the underlying sensory nerves, there is apt to be pain with every breath.

Fortunately, nature helps to heal broken ribs. The soft tissues and adjoining ribs serve as splints and usually immobilize the fractured bones sufficiently to permit healing.

Internal Injury

But whether there is pain or not, a fractured rib requires the prompt attention of a doctor. There's always the possibility of an internal injury. Then, too, if left to heal by itself without adequate care, a respiratory infection might develop.

If there is no pain or wound, you probably won't have to apply a bandage.

However, if there is pain, a cravat bandage usually is advisable until the patient gets to a doctor. The bandage should be about two inches wide around the lower portion of the chest.

Additional Bandages

Sometimes it might be necessary to apply additional bandages both above and below the original one. The main thing is to immobilize the chest. This is best done by bandaging the lower portion even if the injury is well above that.

Bandaging, however, is only a temporary measure to relieve pain until a doctor can be consulted.

If the bandage doesn't relieve the pain sufficiently, heat may be applied to the site.

The best thing, however, is to get medical attention as promptly as possible.

DROODLES

By ROGER PRICE

"SHOOTIN IRON"

My good friend, Montana Tex., liked this Droodle so much he's going to brand it into the hides of the ten thousand head of Cattle he just bought. Up until a few months ago Montana never had any Cattle on his Ranch in Texas but last year he discovered land on his oil so he figured it was safe to have some livestock around the place. But Montana is concerned about Texas. According to him there are just too many Oil Wells down there. He claims the State is getting so slippery from the overflowing oil that one of these days when nobody's looking it's going to slide right down into the Gulf of Mexico. Sounds like a catastrophe and I don't blame Montana for worrying. Maybe instead of Cattle he should have bought ten thousand head of Salmon.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower made a pitch last year for long-range foreign aid. It wasn't a very strong pitch and he lost. This year, with some outside help, he may try again.

Congress has steadfastly clung to the idea of aid on a year-by-year basis ever since 1948 when, with the Marshall Plan, this country first set up foreign assistance on a big scale.

Economic aid is designed to help backward and underdeveloped countries. But the year-by-year arrangement prevents this country and the receiving nations from planning developments which takes years to complete. For example: river and harbor and waterpower development, or highways and railroads.

So in 1956 Eisenhower asked Congress to approve a foreign aid program which would permit carrying on some projects for as much as 10 years. He didn't ask for money for 10 years, all in a lump. But he wanted congressional promises that would make long-range planning possible.

He ran into stiff opposition and apparently backed away. Neither he nor his aides made much of a fight. Instead, he concentrated on trying to get Congress to give him the full $4,900,000,000 he has asked for one year. Congress didn't go along on that either. It cut more than a billion off his request.

But there was agreement between Eisenhower and Congress that it was time for some fairly thorough studies on the whole problem of foreign aid. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee hired 11 research organizations and assigned 10 men familiar with foreign affairs to do the job.

Two different groups appointed by Eisenhower went to work. They were made up of representatives of business, labor, agriculture and the public. One was headed by Benjamin F. Fairless, steel executive, and the other, continuing advisory body, by Eric Johnston.

The Senate study reports have been pouring out in recent weeks. Most of them favor long-term aid. In the past week the Fairless and Johnston groups have reported. They favor long-term aid.

So if Eisenhower wants to propose a 10-year program again this year he has a lot of support — at least outside Congress. It's still questionable the full Congress will go along with the idea.

And right now inside the Eisenhower administration it is understood some of the President's top advisers are chilly to long-range commitments.

Johnston's group expressed belief there is wide misunderstanding in this country on the amount and kind of aid being given. This is a brief breakdown:

Of the $3,800,000,000 billion voted by Congress last year, about two billions is in military assistance; another $1,200,000,000 in economic help to the nations getting military assistance; and 250 millions for economic development in neutral countries.

The remainder goes to international agencies, to technical assistance, into presidential funds for emergency relief, or into the cost of administering the program.

The Johnston group reported that roughly two thirds of the non-military aid goes to six countries: Turkey, Pakistan, Iran, South Korea, Viet Nam, and the Nationalist republic of China. They have a population of 170 million.

The remaining third goes to underdeveloped countries having a 900 million population.

Start Purchasing Warm Weather Fashions Today

Many, many years ago, it took seven hours for a Chinese woman to iron a complete dress. She used six or seven sheets, placed one over the other, on a bed. Historic tidbits like this make one glad to be living in 1957!

We have so many conveniences today, like wash-and-wear clothes for the whole family. And if we do have to do some ironing, we have the aid of ironing machines and irons that convert from dry to steam at the flick of a switch.

This brings us to the thought of the coming warm weather fashions. What better time to buy them than now?

Many a smart woman consoles herself because she cannot go South for the Winter, by selecting clothes in the resort sections of her favorite store. She can not go wrong if she selects the newest version of the enduring classics. What is smart for Southern wear is going to be just as smart for any locality when the weather warms up.

The white cotton dress is scoring a success for resort wear. The chief interest, from a fashion point, is texture. Various textures contrive to impart so much variety to cottons these days.

One model would be perfect for almost any afternoon or evening occasion later on. It is a soft shirtwaist of snowy white Belgian cotton lace, with a white satin belt and handsome rhinestone buttons.

Also nice is an organdy sheath, embroidered in huge teardrops that range from pale to deep blue. It is a softened sheath, one that is easy to dress up with a taffeta or velvet sash.

White cotton damask is cited for warm weather wear, as is sheer cotton with delicately woven stripes in blue, lemon yellow or pale pink.

Casual coats of synthetic fleece, soft, light and downy, are selling well, too. The colors include pale yellow, blue and, of course, pink, as well as pale beige and white.

Schedule Helps Mom Gets Kids Off To School

Have trouble getting the kids off to school?

Who doesn't!

It is no wonder the morning rush hour leaves Mom ready for collapse.

There is breakfast to prepare and serve, Dad to speed off to his bus or train, children to supervise as they prepare (and usually haphazardly) for classes.

Here is a suggestion for you, Mom. It is this:

Set up a schedule for the small fry and eventually you can leave them on their own while you busy yourself with other morning chores.

You need two things. One is a full-length mirror. The other is a check list to paste on it.

A suitable list for boys might contain the following queries:

Hair combed? Face, neck and ears washed? Teeth brushed? Tie straight? Shirt clean? Fingernails clean? Pants pressed? Socks up? Shoes shined?

A girl's list might pose these questions:

Hair brushed? Face, neck and ears clean? Teeth brushed? Hair ribbons? Clean blouse? Fingernails clean? Skirt pressed? Stockings straight? Slip showing?

For the first week or two, check the lists with the youngsters just before they leave for school. After the habit is established, they can check each other out, with you giving them just a final once-over as they speed for the door.

The list is a help for everyone. Children are forgetful, so the list is a real reminder. As for you, the list will take some of the rush away from that morning hour.

Christian Home Society Meets In Parish House

Pastor and Mrs. Carl Zehner were hosts to 32 members of the Christian Home Society in Trinity Lutheran parish house.

Following a covered dish dinner, Mrs. Paul Thompson, president of the society, was in charge of the meeting.

After singing, "I Lay My Sins on Jesus," Pastor Zehner read the last prayer of Jesus with His disciples before His trial and crucifixion, as taken from St. John.

Following a short business session, the meeting was closed with singing the hymn, "Must Jesus Bear The Cross Alone" and praying "The Lords Prayer."

The program was opened with group singing of "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "My Wild Irish Rose" accompanied by Mrs. Harry C. Kern.

Mrs. Willard Dudleson read "A Little Bit of Heaven—Shure They Call It Ireland." A skit entitled "Youth of Today" with Paul and Gary Thompson taking the parts of father and son, was followed by a reading, "Going To The Dogs" by Mrs. Lyle Davis.

A quiz on the parts of a watch, song titles and how long is a minute, was enjoyed. The program was closed with Mrs. Thompson reading "The Heart of Man."

The next meeting will be April 2 in the parish house.

Small, Medium And Large Hats Top Spring Fashions

Eye-catching hats are a real feminine quest about this time of year when ladies' fancies are turning to the idea of a new Spring bonnet.

The change of seasons to a more carefree, colorful and warmer time is a real inspiration to get out and select a fascinating chapeau to top off new outfits.

The three hats pictured here are a happy combination of chic and flattery. Each has its place in the wardrobe and, being so different in silhouette, will please the most discriminating of shoppers.

For the woman who dotes on small head-hugging hats, the tilted turban is a dream come true. The one shown above is interestingly manipulated and, to point up the slanted side, a pink peony of organdie and velvet is poised over the ear.

The large sailor has a big, square buckle of brilliants, and would grace the most posh of garden parties and go equally well to church of al fresco weddings.

The third model has a black cire loop matching the draped cire band around the crown. It is reminiscent of the styles made famous by Garbo and Dietrich. It is a companionate fashion for tailored suits, daytime dresses and spectator sports costumes.

Household Hints

Like the idea of having your own school? A tablespoon of cocoa, a cutters made to your specifications by your tinsmith!

When you are using only one half of an avocado, wrap the other half in foil and refrigerate.

If shredded coconut has become hard, heat it over hot water.

Loaves of homemade yeast bread will have a shiny light surface if you brush them, before baking, with an unbeaten egg whites mixed with a couple of tablespoons of water.

Making cocoa for small fry after cookie designs? Have some cookie quarter cup of water and three-quarters cup of milk is a good proportion. Sugar is added to taste.

It is a pleasant custom: serve the guest of honor first at a company dinner.

A club sandwich—lettuce, tomato, chicken, bacon — is especially good served with mayonnaise to which capers have been added.

Schedule Helps Mom Gets Kids Off To School

Have trouble getting the kids off to school?

Who doesn't!

It is no wonder the morning rush hour leaves Mom ready for collapse.

There is breakfast to prepare and serve, Dad to speed off to his bus or train, children to supervise as they prepare (and usually haphazardly) for classes.

Here is a suggestion for you, Mom. It is this:

Set up a schedule for the small fry and eventually you can leave them on their own while you busy yourself with other morning chores.

You need two things. One is a full-length mirror. The other is a check list to paste on it.

A suitable list for boys might contain the following queries:

Hair combed? Face, neck and ears washed? Teeth brushed? Tie straight? Shirt clean? Fingernails clean? Pants pressed? Socks up? Shoes shined?

A girl's list might pose these questions:

Hair brushed? Face, neck and ears clean? Teeth brushed? Hair ribbons? Clean blouse? Fingernails clean? Skirt pressed? Stockings straight? Slip showing?

For the first week or two, check the lists with the youngsters just before they leave for school. After the habit is established, they can check each other out, with you giving them just a final once-over as they speed for the door.

The list is a help for everyone. Children are forgetful, so the list is a real reminder. As for you, the list will take some of the rush away from that morning hour.

Christian Home Society Meets In Parish House

Pastor and Mrs. Carl Zehner were hosts to 32 members of the Christian Home Society in Trinity Lutheran parish house.

Following a covered dish dinner, Mrs. Paul Thompson, president of the society, was in charge of the meeting.

After singing, "I Lay My Sins on Jesus," Pastor Zehner read the last prayer of Jesus with His disciples before His trial and crucifixion, as taken from St. John.

Following a short business session, the meeting was closed with singing the hymn, "Must Jesus Bear The Cross Alone" and praying "The Lords Prayer."

The program was opened with group singing of "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "My Wild Irish Rose" accompanied by Mrs. Harry C. Kern.

Mrs. Willard Dudleson read "A Little Bit of Heaven—Shure They Call It Ireland." A skit entitled "Youth of Today" with Paul and Gary Thompson taking the parts of father and son, was followed by a reading, "Going To The Dogs" by Mrs. Lyle Davis.

A quiz on the parts of a watch, song titles and how long is a minute, was enjoyed. The program was closed with Mrs. Thompson reading "The Heart of Man."

The next meeting will be April 2 in the parish house.

Small, Medium And Large Hats Top Spring Fashions

Eye-catching hats are a real feminine quest about this time of year when ladies' fancies are turning to the idea of a new Spring bonnet.

The change of seasons to a more carefree, colorful and warmer time is a real inspiration to get out and select a fascinating chapeau to top off new outfits.

The three hats pictured here are a happy combination of chic and flattery. Each has its place in the wardrobe and, being so different in silhouette, will please the most discriminating of shoppers.

For the woman who dotes on small head-hugging hats, the tilted turban is a dream come true. The one shown above is interestingly manipulated and, to point up the slanted side, a pink peony of organdie and velvet is poised over the ear.

The large sailor has a big, square buckle of brilliants, and would grace the most posh of garden parties and go equally well to church of al fresco weddings.

The third model has a black cire loop matching the draped cire band around the crown. It is reminiscent of the styles made famous by Garbo and Dietrich. It is a companionate fashion for tailored suits, daytime dresses and spectator sports costumes.

Household Hints

Like the idea of having your own school? A tablespoon of cocoa, a cutters made to your specifications by your tinsmith!

When you are using only one half of an avocado, wrap the other half in foil and refrigerate.

If shredded coconut has become hard, heat it over hot water.

Loaves of homemade yeast bread will have a shiny light surface if you brush them, before baking, with an unbeaten egg whites mixed with a couple of tablespoons of water.

Making cocoa for small fry after cookie designs? Have some cookie quarter cup of water and three-quarters cup of milk is a good proportion. Sugar is added to taste.

It is a pleasant custom: serve the guest of honor first at a company dinner.

A club sandwich—lettuce, tomato, chicken, bacon — is especially good served with mayonnaise to which capers have been added.

'Poison Gas' Scare Ends In South Point

SOUTH POINT, Ohio (AP) — The "poison gas" scare in this section of the Ohio Valley is over.

Clouds of pungent fumes from a fire at the Atmospheric Nitrogen Co. here spread for miles over parts of Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky Saturday, causing residents to evacuate or prepare for evacuation as early reports indicated the fumes were mildly poisonous. The fumes came from a burning pile of some 45,000 tons of chemical fertilizer.

Plant chemists said later, however, that although the fumes contained chlorine and oxides of nitrogen, they were not strong enough to damage either lives or property.

By Sunday, the fumes had completely disappeared, the state highway patrol said, and the fire had been extinguished, although firemen were still pouring water into the concrete building that housed the fertilizer. Those who had evacuated were back in their homes, the patrol said.

Patrolmen said sight-seers arrived in a steady stream at the plant Sunday, occasionally creating traffic jams on nearby highways.

Patrolmen said no one was injured and no one required medical treatment for exposure to the fumes.

Chief John Gallagher of the Huntington, W. Va., fire department, which helped fight the blaze, said the loss probably would amount to "several million dollars." However, company officials declined to estimate the damage and said that they would have a conference with insurance adjustors in an attempt to arrive at a figure.

Nasser, Communists Labeled Criminals

DALLAS (AP)—Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison told a Kiwanis group that the Communists "are nothing more than racketeers and criminals, and the same goes for General Nasser of Egypt."

Harrison, who negotiated the armistice in the Korean War, is executive director of the Evangelical Welfare Agency of Chicago, which sponsors placement of orphans in Christian homes.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 8
Start Now to Plan Next Year's Tax

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. These articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants, and the Ohio Society of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

Often the greatest tax savings are to be made during the year by planning your decisions with tax considerations in mind, rather than at the end of the year when you have your tax form in hand.

Here are some possibilities for reducing your tax which you can't do anything about after the end of the tax year, but which might reduce next year's tax return:

(1) If you are providing nearly half the support of someone who might qualify as a dependent, consider providing more than half so you will be entitled to the $600 exemption. The extra amount you contribute may be less than the tax savings.

(2) Remember that unless a dependent is under 19 or a full-time student, you will lose the exemption if his income is $600 or more. Be sure to check the income of everyone you expect to claim as a dependent.

(3) If you are planning to be married, a wedding before midnight December 31, 1957, will give you the privilege of filing a joint return for 1957. This probably would result in substantial tax saving.

(4) A baby born before midnight, December 31, qualifies as an exemption for the full year.

(5) If your medical expenses are likely to be over 3% of your income this year and you expect them to be less next year, pay as many medical bills as possible before the end of the year, up to the maximum allowable deduction. If you borrow to do this, remember that you can also deduct the interest.

(6) If your medical expenses are over the maximum deduction, perhaps you can defer part of the payment until after the end of the year.

(7) Borrowing to pay your taxes can sometimes let you take the deduction a year earlier.

(8) If you sell your home at a profit, remember that you do not have to pay a capital gains tax if you pay more for a new home within a year than the price you get for the old one.

(9) When investing money, remember that stock in a domestic corporation offers the possibility of dividend exclusion and credit.

(10) If you sell securities or other "capital assets" at a profit, it is usually better to wait until you have held them at least six months so that the profit will be taxed at the capital gains rate instead of as ordinary income.

(11) When buying bonds, consider not only the interest rate but the fact that interest on state and municipal bonds is exempt from federal income tax.

If any of these points is likely to make a substantial difference in your tax, it will probably pay you to discuss your problems with the Internal Revenue Service, or to seek professional tax advice. Anything you pay for assistance in preparing your tax return is deductible from your taxable income.

But beware of any "tax expert" who claims he can cut your tax below the amount you really owe. It's a good idea to pick someone who has had experience in dealing with the Internal Revenue Service, just in case the government should raise some question about your return.

(Final Article of the Series.)

Weeks Denies Ike's Program Is 'Just Like The New Deal'

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Weeks jabbed Saturday at what he called "those old friends" who complain that the Eisenhower program is "just like the New Deal."

He defended the President's proposed $71,800,000,000 budget and declared "Americans, living under the awful shadow of the hydrogen bomb, must pay a lot of money to remain free and stay alive."

Weeks, in a speech prepared for the Women's National Republican Club here, said Eisenhower's "modern Republicanism is not something brand new, dreamed up recently—as some folks think—by maverick star gazers."

He said "it is as old as the principles of the first successful republican candidate for the presidency, Abraham Lincoln."

Weeks said the record "clearly proves the sharp contrast between our middle-of-the-road administration and the New Deal," which he said fostered such ideas as "socialized medicine and so-cialized agriculture.

The commerce secretary defended the record-breaking peacetime budget as "designed to carry out the Republican program of peace, prosperity and progress."

Weeks noted that nearly 63 per cent of the proposed expenditures are earmarked directly for national security, and he declared "the price of security and peace is not cheap."

"Every year it takes more money to buy the absolutely essential new weapons in the field of . . . ultra modern war materials," Weeks said.

Apart from defense demands, Weeks said the rapid growth of the U. S. population—11 million in the past four years—has meant that the federal government has had to expand some functions to keep pace.

One of the most difficult budget problems, he said, is "the almost insatiable demand of different peoples for new government service and the continued expansion of the old . . ."

Technical Assistance Said To Be Best in Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) completed a 30-month study of technical assistance Saturday with the conclusion that "it is the cheapest, most effective" of all foreign aid programs.

Mansfield, chairman of a Senate foreign relations subcommittee, voiced this verdict to an interviewer as he and Sen. Hickenlooper made a final report recommending:

1. Continuance of the technical assistance, or Point 4 program, at approximately its present level of around 30 million dollars a year.

2. Continuance of U. S. contributions to the U. N. and the organization of American states for similar work.

They also recommended that Congress reconsider its action of last year cutting the U. S. contribution to the U. N. technical assistance program from 47 per cent to 33 1-3 per cent effective next year.

Mansfield and Hickenlooper said Congress next year should be able to make another cut, but that a cut from 47 to 33 1-3 per cent in one year "would inevitably have deleterious effects on the program."

They said this country might be able to save on the dollar contribution without "crippling the U. N. program" by using foreign currencies which have been accumulating abroad from the sale of surplus agricultural commodities.

The technical assistance program is one in which the United States supplies technicians and other specialized aid to help under-developed countries improve their living and cultural standards.

The Mansfield-Hickenlooper report dealt primarily with Latin America and Africa.

"On the whole, the technical assistance program in Latin America is worth continuing at approximately its present level," they said.

They said there is a tendency in that area for the United States to carry on technical assistance projects after they have passed from the "demonstrational" to the "operational" stage, however, due in part to "the reluctance of local governments to accept full responsibility for operation of the projects."

"Technical assistance in the field of labor," they said, "could well be expanded substantially," primarily through an increase in the number of labor leaders brought to the United States on training grants to help boost industrial productivity.

The typical country program in Latin America costs from one to two million dollars a year, the report said. And it said of the cost of Point 4:

"This is, on the whole, money well spent. Individual projects by and large seem to be technically sound and well administered. Many of them have been highly successful, not only in the technical sense of improving standards of living and promoting economic development but also in the broader sense of encouraging United States trade, increasing opportunities for private investment, and improving United States political relations."

Any substantial curtailment, it said "would have unfavorable political and economic repercussions disproportionate to the amount of money involved and would reduce the possibilities of productive work in the future."

As for Africa, the senators recommended U. S. readiness to increase its programs there within the limits of each country's capacity to absorb them.

"By no means the least of the new needs for technical assistance is the broad field of public administration, the day-to-day tasks of managing a government and making it work," said the report.

"This is a field in which national sensitiveness is acute and in which multilateral assistance tends to be more acceptable than bilateral aid. It is a field, in short, in which more is likely to be accomplished through the United Nations than by the United States acting alone."

Patrolmen said sight-seers arrived in a steady stream at the plant Sunday, occasionally creating traffic jams on nearby highways.

Patrolmen said no one was injured and no one required medical treatment for exposure to the fumes.

Chief John Gallagher of the Huntington, W. Va., fire department, which helped fight the blaze, said the loss probably would amount to "several million dollars." However, company officials declined to estimate the damage and said that they would have a conference with insurance adjustors in an attempt to arrive at a figure.

Nasser, Communists Labeled Criminals

Harrison, who negotiated the armistice in the Korean War, is executive director of the Evangelical Welfare Agency of Chicago, which sponsors placement of orphans in Christian homes.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 8
Start Now to Plan Next Year's Tax

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. These articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants, and the Ohio Society of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

Often the greatest tax savings are to be made during the year by planning your decisions with tax considerations in mind, rather than at the end of the year when you have your tax form in hand.

Here are some possibilities for reducing your tax which you can't do anything about after the end of the tax year, but which might reduce next year's tax return:

(1) If you are providing nearly half the support of someone who might qualify as a dependent, consider providing more than half so you will be entitled to the $600 exemption. The extra amount you contribute may be less than the tax savings.

(2) Remember that unless a dependent is under 19 or a full-time student, you will lose the exemption if his income is $600 or more. Be sure to check the income of everyone you expect to claim as a dependent.

(3) If you are planning to be married, a wedding before midnight December 31, 1957, will give you the privilege of filing a joint return for 1957. This probably would result in substantial tax saving.

(4) A baby born before midnight, December 31, qualifies as an exemption for the full year.

(5) If your medical expenses are likely to be over 3% of your income this year and you expect them to be less next year, pay as many medical bills as possible before the end of the year, up to the maximum allowable deduction. If you borrow to do this, remember that you can also deduct the interest.

(6) If your medical expenses are over the maximum deduction, perhaps you can defer part of the payment until after the end of the year.

(7) Borrowing to pay your taxes can sometimes let you take the deduction a year earlier.

(8) If you sell your home at a profit, remember that you do not have to pay a capital gains tax if you pay more for a new home within a year than the price you get for the old one.

(9) When investing money, remember that stock in a domestic corporation offers the possibility of dividend exclusion and credit.

(10) If you sell securities or other "capital assets" at a profit, it is usually better to wait until you have held them at least six months so that the profit will be taxed at the capital gains rate instead of as ordinary income.

(11) When buying bonds, consider not only the interest rate but the fact that interest on state and municipal bonds is exempt from federal income tax.

If any of these points is likely to make a substantial difference in your tax, it will probably pay you to discuss your problems with the Internal Revenue Service, or to seek professional tax advice. Anything you pay for assistance in preparing your tax return is deductible from your taxable income.

But beware of any "tax expert" who claims he can cut your tax below the amount you really owe. It's a good idea to pick someone who has had experience in dealing with the Internal Revenue Service, just in case the government should raise some question about your return.

Weeks Denies Ike's Program Is 'Just Like The New Deal'

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Weeks jabbed Saturday at what he called "those old friends" who complain that the Eisenhower program is "just like the New Deal."

He defended the President's proposed $71,800,000,000 budget and declared "Americans, living under the awful shadow of the hydrogen bomb, must pay a lot of money to remain free and stay alive."

Weeks, in a speech prepared for the Women's National Republican Club here, said Eisenhower's "modern Republicanism is not something brand new, dreamed up recently—as some folks think—by maverick star gazers."

He said "it is as old as the principles of the first successful republican candidate for the presidency, Abraham Lincoln."

Weeks said the record "clearly proves the sharp contrast between our middle-of-the-road administration and the New Deal," which he said fostered such ideas as "socialized medicine and so-cialized agriculture.

The commerce secretary defended the record-breaking peacetime budget as "designed to carry out the Republican program of peace, prosperity and progress."

Weeks noted that nearly 63 per cent of the proposed expenditures are earmarked directly for national security, and he declared "the price of security and peace is not cheap."

"Every year it takes more money to buy the absolutely essential new weapons in the field of . . . ultra modern war materials," Weeks said.

Apart from defense demands, Weeks said the rapid growth of the U. S. population—11 million in the past four years—has meant that the federal government has had to expand some functions to keep pace.

One of the most difficult budget problems, he said, is "the almost insatiable demand of different peoples for new government service and the continued expansion of the old . . ."

Technical Assistance Said To Be Best in Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) completed a 30-month study of technical assistance Saturday with the conclusion that "it is the cheapest, most effective" of all foreign aid programs.

Mansfield, chairman of a Senate foreign relations subcommittee, voiced this verdict to an interviewer as he and Sen. Hickenlooper made a final report recommending:

1. Continuance of the technical assistance, or Point 4 program, at approximately its present level of around 30 million dollars a year.

2. Continuance of U. S. contributions to the U. N. and the organization of American states for similar work.

They also recommended that Congress reconsider its action of last year cutting the U. S. contribution to the U. N. technical assistance program from 47 per cent to 33 1-3 per cent effective next year.

Mansfield and Hickenlooper said Congress next year should be able to make another cut, but that a cut from 47 to 33 1-3 per cent in one year "would inevitably have deleterious effects on the program."

They said this country might be able to save on the dollar contribution without "crippling the U. N. program" by using foreign currencies which have been accumulating abroad from the sale of surplus agricultural commodities.

The technical assistance program is one in which the United States supplies technicians and other specialized aid to help under-developed countries improve their living and cultural standards.

The Mansfield-Hickenlooper report dealt primarily with Latin America and Africa.

"On the whole, the technical assistance program in Latin America is worth continuing at approximately its present level," they said.

They said there is a tendency in that area for the United States to carry on technical assistance projects after they have passed from the "demonstrational" to the "operational" stage, however, due in part to "the reluctance of local governments to accept full responsibility for operation of the projects."

"Technical assistance in the field of labor," they said, "could well be expanded substantially," primarily through an increase in the number of labor leaders brought to the United States on training grants to help boost industrial productivity.

The typical country program in Latin America costs from one to two million dollars a year, the report said. And it said of the cost of Point 4:

"This is, on the whole, money well spent. Individual projects by and large seem to be technically sound and well administered. Many of them have been highly successful, not only in the technical sense of improving standards of living and promoting economic development but also in the broader sense of encouraging United States trade, increasing opportunities for private investment, and improving United States political relations."

Any substantial curtailment, it said "would have unfavorable political and economic repercussions disproportionate to the amount of money involved and would reduce the possibilities of productive work in the future."

As for Africa, the senators recommended U. S. readiness to increase its programs there within the limits of each country's capacity to absorb them.

"By no means the least of the new needs for technical assistance is the broad field of public administration, the day-to-day tasks of managing a government and making it work," said the report.

"This is a field in which national sensitiveness is acute and in which multilateral assistance tends to be more acceptable than bilateral aid. It is a field, in short, in which more is likely to be accomplished through the United Nations than by the United States acting alone."

Regional Cage Tourneys Due Next Weekend

Mighty Middies Seek 49th Victory, Seventh State Championship

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Middletown's mighty Middies, boasting a record 48-game winning streak and hot on the trail of their seventh Ohio high school basketball championship, go against a once-beaten foe Friday in the regional tournaments.

Paul Walker's powerhouse, with 23 straight this year, meets New Carlisle Tecumseh Friday at Cincinnati, a team which has won 22 of 23.

That's the game everyone will be watching as 16 Class AA and 16 Class A quintets—the standouts of the starting field of 1,045—go into action in the regionals.

Of the "sweet 16" Class AA clubs still in contention, only Middletown and Zanesville have ever won the title. The Middies took it in 1944, 1946, 1947, 1952, 1953 and 1956, while Zanesville triumphed in 1926 and 1955.

Zanesville meets Cleveland East Tech, one of last year's quartet of state finalists, in the Berea Regional Thursday. East Tech went in with a 23-0 record a year ago, but has a 16-5 mark this time against Zanesville's 19-2.

Three of the 16 Class AA quintets have been runner-up in the big state finals. Columbus North finished second in 1932, Akron South in 1950, and Canton McKinley in 1928, 1931, 1940, 1943 and 1956—without taking the pennant. Lockland Wayne, Joe Martin's ever-threatening team, is the only Class A team ever to take the state title or be runner-up, among the 16 survivors. Wayne won in 1952 and 1955, after finishing second in 1949.

The Class AA teams have a combined record of 307 wins and 42 defeats. Middletown with 23-0 and Cleveland Cathedral Latin with 21-0 are the only unbeaten teams, and Lima with 12-8 has the poorest record.

The Class A teams have won 336 and lost 57, with only New Boston claiming an unsullied record of 22 in a row, Ottawa St. Peter and Paul is on the other end with a 16-10 mark.

Of the top 10 teams in the final Associated Press Class AA poll, seven are still in the running—an exceptional record since the sports editors picked them from among 349 quintets.

Three of the top 10, Columbus North (4), Toledo Macomber (5) and Shelby (7) are in the Toledo regional with Lima. Middletown (2) and Chillicothe (9) are at Cincinnati; Cleveland Cathedral Latin (1) at Berea, and Youngstown South (6) at Kent.

Only third-ranked Vienna and ninth-placed Lockland Wayne of the top 10 in Class A made it to the regionals.

A complete rematch of last year's four finalists in the Class AA state meet is possible as Middletown, Cleveland East Tech, Columbus North and Canton McKinley are still in. But none of the Class A finalists of a year ago survived district play this year, assuring new cast.

Arcanum's suprising youngsters who stormed out of Darke County to take the title a year ago were erased 49-42 by Bradford in the finals at Springfield Saturday. And Willshire, state tourney entrant the last two years, was victimized 57-42 by New Bremen at Bluffton in the final district game.

Regional games are scheduled Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in semifinals this week, but all finals in which teams will win their way to the March 22-23 state meet are booked for Saturday night.

Here are the pairings for this week's regionals from which four qualifiers will be named for the state finals at Ohio State University's St. John's Arena (all regional finals at 8 p. m. Saturday):

NAIA Cage Tournament Starts Today

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The week-long, 32-team National Intercollegiate (NAIA) Basketball tournament opened in Municipal Auditorium today and there's only the slightest inkling which team will take the championship trophy home Saturday night.

Eight teams were seeded when the pairings were drawn up. Pacific Lutheran of Parkland, Wash., was given the top spot, primarily because its 27-1 season record included two victories of Seattle's AAU champions.

Texas Southern, which was beaten in the finals by McNeese State of Lake Charles, La., last year, was seeded 8th despite its 31-1 record, best in the field, and the fact it has all of its 1956 personnel returning.

McNeese is not in the tournament this year.

The other high seeded teams include Youngstown (Ohio) University (19-3), No. 2; West Virginia Tech (31-2), No. 3, Western Illinois (21-2), No. 4; Portland, Ore., University (17-11), No. 5; Hamline (19-3), No. 6; and Southeastern Oklahoma State (22-5), No. 7.

The eventual champion will have played five games in a maximum of six days.

West Virginia Tech of Montgomery will show the NAIA's champion scorer of the year in Ken Hammond, who carried a 35.2 average for 33 games.

DiBiase Favored

NEW YORK (AP)—Tony DiBiase, 21-year-old college clouter, is favored to stretch his unbeaten string to 19 tonight when he takes on Danny Giovenelli in a welterweight 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

U. S. College Cagers Head Into Tell-Tale Tournaments

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

West Virginia's Hot Rod Hundley, North Carolina's Len Rosenbluth and Kansas' Wilt Chamberlain lead their teams into the 23-team NCAA major college tournament this week in scattered sites across the nation.

Eight NCAA small college teams battle for the title in their tournament at Evansville, Ind., Wednesday through Saturday.

Thirty-two other small schools begin knocking heads today in the NAIA Tournament at Kansas City.

The NCAA major college lineup was completed over the weekend. North Carolina's unbeaten Tar Heels, No. 1 in the Associated Press poll, won their 27th straight, 95-75 over South Carolina, in the finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference tourney. The NCAA spot went with the championship.

The brand new NCAA small college affair—officially designated the "College Division" tournament to differentiate it from the major or "University Division" battle—began last week with 32 teams meeting on various courts.

The NCAA major tournament gets under way tonight at Pocatello, Idaho, with Idaho State of the Rocky Mountain Conference and Hardin-Simmons, Border Conference representative, meeting in a preliminary round. Other prelims in New York, Oklahoma City and Columbus, Ohio, are slated for Tuesday night.

In New York, North Carolina meets Yale, Connecticut meets Syracuse and West Virginia meets Canisius. It's Miami (Ohio) against Notre Dame and Pittsburgh vs. Morehead (Ky) at Columbus. Loyola of the South and Oklahoma City meet on the latter's court.

The winners of these seven games advance to the regional quarter-finals with nine teams exempted from the prelims. The regionals are at Philadelphia, Dallas, Corvallis, Ore., and Lexington, Ky., Friday and Saturday. The regional champs advance to the semifinals and finals March 22-23 at Kansas City.

Lakers Win Another Spot In Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minneapolis, the granddad of professional basketball playoffs, today was ready for its campaign in the 1956-57 National Basketball Assn. post-season competition.

The Lakers, along with Fort Wayne's Pistons and the Syracuse Nationals qualified for the playoff Sunday, leaving only the winner of the New York-Philadelphia Eastern division scramble to complete the six-team set up. The Lakers have won the NBA championship five times. Boston and St. Louis previously gained playoff spots.

Minneapolis dfeeated the St. Louis Hawks, Western Division leaders, 117-104 Sunday.

The Pistons earned their spot by eliminating the Rochester Royals from contention with a 100-96 victory. Syracuse had to battle to a 94-92 decision over the Eastern Division-leading Boston Celtics. New York captured its face to face meeting with Philadelphia 104-103.

The Knicks are 1½ games back of Philadelphia. New York must defeat the pacesetting Celtics Wednesday while Philadelphia loses its two last games to qualify.

Richards Misses Pole Vault Mark

Warmerdam set the indoor mark of 15 feet 8½ inches in Chicago in the horizontal bar at 15 feet 9¼ inches Saturday, but dislodged the pole coming down.

Richards did succeed in breaking his Journal Games' record by vaulting 15 feet 5½ inches, ½ inch over his old mark.

Andy Carey Shines In Yankee Game

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Maybe Casey Stengel was just trying to scare Andy Carey when he said recently he was going to try Bill Skowron at third base.

Carey has played both Yankee exhibition games against the St. Louis Cardinals, and Sunday socked a 3-run homer in the first inning and batted in another run later as New York won 9-6.

Wall Pockets Top Prize At Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)— A two-under-par three on the long eighth hole of the Pensacola Country Club golf course meant money in the bank to Art Wall Jr.

The eagle was the key to victory and the $2,000 top prize in the Pensacola Open Golf tournament for the soft-spoken pro from Pocono Manor, Pa., Sunday. It enabled him to beat out Australian Peter Thomson by two strokes with a 72-hole total of 273, 15 strokes under par.

The tournament early had become a head-and-head duel between the 33-year-old Wall, a former Duke University basketball and golf star, and Thomson, 27, winner of the British Open the last three years.

Thomson moved out in front in the third round Saturday with a five-under-par 67 over the wind-swept 6,325-yard course.

With the chips down, Thomson faltered on the front nine Sunday.

Wall's rounds of 70-68-69-66—273 compared with the Australian's 69-69-67-70—275. Thomson picked up $1,500 second prize money.

Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., rallied for 68s in the final two rounds to take third place money of $1,200 with a 278.

Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, had a seven-under-par 65, lowest round of the tournament, Sunday to tie Walter Burkemo for fourth at 279. Burkemo, from Franklin Hills, Mich., had a final round 68. Each received $950.

Regalado Aiming At Indian Position

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Rudy Regalado, one of the last of the Cleveland Indians to sign, showed up at training camp here with the declaration: "There's a job open, and I'll give it my best shot."

The job is at third base, vacated by the retirement of Al Rosen.

Rudy can hit, but he will have to prove that he can hold down the fielding chore. For the last three years he has been shunted back and forth between Cleveland and the Indianapolis farm club, hitting .250, .269 and .234 for the Indians and .316 and .322 for Indianapolis.

Regional Cage Tourneys Due Next Weekend

Mighty Middies Seek 49th Victory, Seventh State Championship

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Middletown's mighty Middies, boasting a record 48-game winning streak and hot on the trail of their seventh Ohio high school basketball championship, go against a once-beaten foe Friday in the regional tournaments.

Paul Walker's powerhouse, with 23 straight this year, meets New Carlisle Tecumseh Friday at Cincinnati, a team which has won 22 of 23.

That's the game everyone will be watching as 16 Class AA and 16 Class A quintets—the standouts of the starting field of 1,045—go into action in the regionals.

Of the "sweet 16" Class AA clubs still in contention, only Middletown and Zanesville have ever won the title. The Middies took it in 1944, 1946, 1947, 1952, 1953 and 1956, while Zanesville triumphed in 1926 and 1955.

Zanesville meets Cleveland East Tech, one of last year's quartet of state finalists, in the Berea Regional Thursday. East Tech went in with a 23-0 record a year ago, but has a 16-5 mark this time against Zanesville's 19-2.

Three of the 16 Class AA quintets have been runner-up in the big state finals. Columbus North finished second in 1932, Akron South in 1950, and Canton McKinley in 1928, 1931, 1940, 1943 and 1956—without taking the pennant. Lockland Wayne, Joe Martin's ever-threatening team, is the only Class A team ever to take the state title or be runner-up, among the 16 survivors. Wayne won in 1952 and 1955, after finishing second in 1949.

The Class AA teams have a combined record of 307 wins and 42 defeats. Middletown with 23-0 and Cleveland Cathedral Latin with 21-0 are the only unbeaten teams, and Lima with 12-8 has the poorest record.

The Class A teams have won 336 and lost 57, with only New Boston claiming an unsullied record of 22 in a row, Ottawa St. Peter and Paul is on the other end with a 16-10 mark.

Of the top 10 teams in the final Associated Press Class AA poll, seven are still in the running—an exceptional record since the sports editors picked them from among 349 quintets.

Three of the top 10, Columbus North (4), Toledo Macomber (5) and Shelby (7) are in the Toledo regional with Lima. Middletown (2) and Chillicothe (9) are at Cincinnati; Cleveland Cathedral Latin (1) at Berea, and Youngstown South (6) at Kent.

Only third-ranked Vienna and ninth-placed Lockland Wayne of the top 10 in Class A made it to the regionals.

A complete rematch of last year's four finalists in the Class AA state meet is possible as Middletown, Cleveland East Tech, Columbus North and Canton McKinley are still in. But none of the Class A finalists of a year ago survived district play this year, assuring new cast.

Arcanum's suprising youngsters who stormed out of Darke County to take the title a year ago were erased 49-42 by Bradford in the finals at Springfield Saturday. And Willshire, state tourney entrant the last two years, was victimized 57-42 by New Bremen at Bluffton in the final district game.

Regional games are scheduled Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in semifinals this week, but all finals in which teams will win their way to the March 22-23 state meet are booked for Saturday night.

Here are the pairings for this week's regionals from which four qualifiers will be named for the state finals at Ohio State University's St. John's Arena (all regional finals at 8 p. m. Saturday):

NAIA Cage Tournament Starts Today

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The week-long, 32-team National Intercollegiate (NAIA) Basketball tournament opened in Municipal Auditorium today and there's only the slightest inkling which team will take the championship trophy home Saturday night.

Eight teams were seeded when the pairings were drawn up. Pacific Lutheran of Parkland, Wash., was given the top spot, primarily because its 27-1 season record included two victories of Seattle's AAU champions.

Texas Southern, which was beaten in the finals by McNeese State of Lake Charles, La., last year, was seeded 8th despite its 31-1 record, best in the field, and the fact it has all of its 1956 personnel returning.

McNeese is not in the tournament this year.

The other high seeded teams include Youngstown (Ohio) University (19-3), No. 2; West Virginia Tech (31-2), No. 3, Western Illinois (21-2), No. 4; Portland, Ore., University (17-11), No. 5; Hamline (19-3), No. 6; and Southeastern Oklahoma State (22-5), No. 7.

The eventual champion will have played five games in a maximum of six days.

West Virginia Tech of Montgomery will show the NAIA's champion scorer of the year in Ken Hammond, who carried a 35.2 average for 33 games.

DiBiase Favored

U. S. College Cagers Head Into Tell-Tale Tournaments

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

West Virginia's Hot Rod Hundley, North Carolina's Len Rosenbluth and Kansas' Wilt Chamberlain lead their teams into the 23-team NCAA major college tournament this week in scattered sites across the nation.

Eight NCAA small college teams battle for the title in their tournament at Evansville, Ind., Wednesday through Saturday.

Thirty-two other small schools begin knocking heads today in the NAIA Tournament at Kansas City.

The NCAA major college lineup was completed over the weekend. North Carolina's unbeaten Tar Heels, No. 1 in the Associated Press poll, won their 27th straight, 95-75 over South Carolina, in the finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference tourney. The NCAA spot went with the championship.

The brand new NCAA small college affair—officially designated the "College Division" tournament to differentiate it from the major or "University Division" battle—began last week with 32 teams meeting on various courts.

The NCAA major tournament gets under way tonight at Pocatello, Idaho, with Idaho State of the Rocky Mountain Conference and Hardin-Simmons, Border Conference representative, meeting in a preliminary round. Other prelims in New York, Oklahoma City and Columbus, Ohio, are slated for Tuesday night.

In New York, North Carolina meets Yale, Connecticut meets Syracuse and West Virginia meets Canisius. It's Miami (Ohio) against Notre Dame and Pittsburgh vs. Morehead (Ky) at Columbus. Loyola of the South and Oklahoma City meet on the latter's court.

The winners of these seven games advance to the regional quarter-finals with nine teams exempted from the prelims. The regionals are at Philadelphia, Dallas, Corvallis, Ore., and Lexington, Ky., Friday and Saturday. The regional champs advance to the semifinals and finals March 22-23 at Kansas City.

Lakers Win Another Spot In Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minneapolis, the granddad of professional basketball playoffs, today was ready for its campaign in the 1956-57 National Basketball Assn. post-season competition.

The Lakers, along with Fort Wayne's Pistons and the Syracuse Nationals qualified for the playoff Sunday, leaving only the winner of the New York-Philadelphia Eastern division scramble to complete the six-team set up. The Lakers have won the NBA championship five times. Boston and St. Louis previously gained playoff spots.

Minneapolis dfeeated the St. Louis Hawks, Western Division leaders, 117-104 Sunday.

The Pistons earned their spot by eliminating the Rochester Royals from contention with a 100-96 victory. Syracuse had to battle to a 94-92 decision over the Eastern Division-leading Boston Celtics. New York captured its face to face meeting with Philadelphia 104-103.

The Knicks are 1½ games back of Philadelphia. New York must defeat the pacesetting Celtics Wednesday while Philadelphia loses its two last games to qualify.

Champion Booked

HOUSTON (AP)— Lightweight champion Joey Brown makes his first non-title outing here Tuesday in an overweight 10-rounder with Montreal's Armand Savoie.

Winter Golf Costs Man Broken Arm

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Aleon Deitch of Fox Chapel is suffering from a fractured right forearm today, and its mostly because he tried to play winter golf.

Deitch and three of his friends were playing golf at Westermoreland Country Club. On the ninth hole, Deitch had a good drive that carried the ball within 75 yards of the green. For his pitch shot, Deitch selected a No. 9 iron but cut too deeply into the frozen turf and broke his arm.

Booster Club Plans Banquet Tuesday Night

Circleville's cage Tigers will be honored at the local Booster Club's annual basketball banquet and pot luck supper, scheduled to be held Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. in the high school social rooms.

The banquet will be conducted on an informal basis. Charles Hart, booster club president requested that all club members and cage fans bring their own table service and a covered dish.

Following the banquet dinner, awards will be presented to members of the varsity and reserve teams and cheerleaders. Varsity members will receive monogram letters and the reservists will receive numerals.

Special medals will be presented to Bob Fraser and Bill Johnson for landing berths on the first and second All-South Central Ohio League teams respectively.

* * *

HONORED guests for the evening will be the junior high team from Circleville and the squads from Wayne and Washington Townships.

The evening's session will be guided by Boyd Stout, master of ceremonies.

Dayton Keglers Leading In ABC

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Metropolitan Clothes of Dayton, Ohio, held the open division team lead today with a score of 2,837 as the American Bowling Congress rolled into the third day of play in the 51-day event.

Held's Recreation of Menomonee Falls, Wis., challenged the Dayton squad for the top spot Sunday night, but laftered in their final frame and settled in second place with 2,830.

DeMolay Cagers Earn Victory In District Tourney

Circleville DeMolay cagers gained a 49 to 46 victory over DeMolay Alladin Chapter of Columbus yesterday in a game played in the local armory.

Playing in the district DeMolay tournament now underway in this area, the local squad is shooting for a berth in the state DeMolay tourney which will be held in Youngstown next month.

Martin led the winners with 22 points. Enoch and Tomlinson had 10 and nine respectively. Tigner and Galloway were defensive stars for the victors, especially in the rebound department.

Richards Misses Pole Vault Mark

Warmerdam set the indoor mark of 15 feet 8½ inches in Chicago in the horizontal bar at 15 feet 9¼ inches Saturday, but dislodged the pole coming down.

Richards did succeed in breaking his Journal Games' record by vaulting 15 feet 5½ inches, ½ inch over his old mark.

Andy Carey Shines In Yankee Game

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Maybe Casey Stengel was just trying to scare Andy Carey when he said recently he was going to try Bill Skowron at third base.

Carey has played both Yankee exhibition games against the St. Louis Cardinals, and Sunday socked a 3-run homer in the first inning and batted in another run later as New York won 9-6.

Wall Pockets Top Prize At Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)— A two-under-par three on the long eighth hole of the Pensacola Country Club golf course meant money in the bank to Art Wall Jr.

The eagle was the key to victory and the $2,000 top prize in the Pensacola Open Golf tournament for the soft-spoken pro from Pocono Manor, Pa., Sunday. It enabled him to beat out Australian Peter Thomson by two strokes with a 72-hole total of 273, 15 strokes under par.

The tournament early had become a head-and-head duel between the 33-year-old Wall, a former Duke University basketball and golf star, and Thomson, 27, winner of the British Open the last three years.

Thomson moved out in front in the third round Saturday with a five-under-par 67 over the wind-swept 6,325-yard course.

With the chips down, Thomson faltered on the front nine Sunday.

Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., rallied for 68s in the final two rounds to take third place money of $1,200 with a 278.

Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, had a seven-under-par 65, lowest round of the tournament, Sunday to tie Walter Burkemo for fourth at 279. Burkemo, from Franklin Hills, Mich., had a final round 68. Each received $950.

Regalado Aiming At Indian Position

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Rudy Regalado, one of the last of the Cleveland Indians to sign, showed up at training camp here with the declaration: "There's a job open, and I'll give it my best shot."

The job is at third base, vacated by the retirement of Al Rosen.

Rudy can hit, but he will have to prove that he can hold down the fielding chore. For the last three years he has been shunted back and forth between Cleveland and the Indianapolis farm club, hitting .250, .269 and .234 for the Indians and .316 and .322 for Indianapolis.

Big Ten's Winter Sports Card Ends

CHICAGO (AP)—Michigan State, Minnesota, Illinois and Wisconsin grabbed off Big Ten championships over the weekend concluding winter sports competition.

Michigan State ended Ohio State's eight year reign in swimming, Minnesota clipped two-time defending champion Michigan for the wrestling title, Illinois maintained its grip in gymnastics with its eighth straight championship and Wisconsin speared the fencing crown.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere thanks to family, friends and neighbors for their many expressions of sympathy at the time of the death of our husband and father John T. Hulse also mother and grandmother Maggie Cartright. The floral tributes, many cards and letters of sympathy have helped so much. Especially did we appreciate the comforting words of the Rev. Mitchell, the helpfulness of the Mader Funeral Service and the care given to mother by the staff at the Circleville Home and Hospital.

OHIO OUTDOORS
from THE OHIO DIVISION OF WILDLIFE

Some 1,500 fishing license dealers throughout Ohio are now receiving their initial supply of 1957 fishing licenses according to a report from the accounting and budget section of the department of natural resources.

Within the next week, all agencies should have licenses and digests of the fishing regulations available to the fishing public. A 1957 fishing license will be necessary on March 1.

While most regulations will remain the same as for the past several years, fishermen will want to acquaint themselves with the new liberalized regulations covering Pymatuning Lake.

With the exception of bag and possession limits, Pymatuning Lake regulations have been completely lifted. This means no closed season and no legal length on any species of fish.

* * *

THERE WILL be a daily limit of two for muskellunge, and six each for black bass, yellow pikeperch (walleye) and northern pike, with a 2-day possession limit after the first day. On all other species there is no bag or possession limit. In Pymatuning Lake, fish may be taken only by angling except carp which may be taken by bow and arrow.

Many fishermen are finding to their delight that ice fishing is not only fun but at times is more productive than fishing during the Spring, Summer and Fall.

A two-hour aerial survey was conducted on fifteen lakes in wildlife district No. 3 and, according to Jack Erickson, assistant fish management supervisor in the district, four hundred and seventeen fishermen were counted, most of them on Mogadore Reservoir. Few fishermen were found on the large flood control reservoirs, the majority preferring smaller state controlled lakes.

In an effort to promote ice fishing, sport fisheries personnel are attempting to locate the good spots and methods of catching fish. This information is then passed on to fishermen as a public service to help them enjoy one of the finest of Winter sports.

Ohio sportsmen will have ample opportunity to see many of the new items in fishing tackle, hunting equipment, boats, motors, etc., during the forthcoming major sportsmen's shows.

First of the attractions will be the Toledo Sports Show running from March 9 through 17. This will be followed by the Columbus Sports Show which opens March 15 and closes March 24. The American-Canadian Sports Show in Cleveland will be held from March 22 through March 31.

ON FEBRUARY 10, the League of Ohio Sportsmen concluded what officers of the group claimed was the most successful convention in the 49 years of its existence.

A number of nationally-known personalities in the natural resources field were on hand and took an active part on many of the panels as did representatives of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

One of the features of the 1957 convention was a report by affiliated clubs telling of their various projects. This phase of the program was initiated last year and met with such acclaim it formed the nucleous for this year's convention.

The annual banquet, held Saturday evening, was highlighted by the appearance of Governor C. William O'Neill, the principal speaker.

Officers who will head the organization during the coming year are: President—Verne L. Harris, Cleveland; Vice President — Carl Knirk, Marion; Secretary — P. M. Jones, Ravenna, and Treasurer — Ben R. Drayer, Columbus.

With the exception of bag and possession limits, Pymatuning Lake regulations have been completely lifted. This means no closed season and no legal length on any species of fish.

* * *

THERE WILL be a daily limit of two for muskellunge, and six each for black bass, yellow pikeperch (walleye) and northern pike, with a 2-day possession limit after the first day. On all other species there is no bag or possession limit. In Pymatuning Lake, fish may be taken only by angling except carp which may be taken by bow and arrow.

Many fishermen are finding to their delight that ice fishing is not only fun but at times is more productive than fishing during the Spring, Summer and Fall.

A two-hour aerial survey was conducted on fifteen lakes in wildlife district No. 3 and, according to Jack Erickson, assistant fish management supervisor in the district, four hundred and seventeen fishermen were counted, most of them on Mogadore Reservoir. Few fishermen were found on the large flood control reservoirs, the majority preferring smaller state controlled lakes.

In an effort to promote ice fishing, sport fisheries personnel are attempting to locate the good spots and methods of catching fish. This information is then passed on to fishermen as a public service to help them enjoy one of the finest of Winter sports.

Ohio sportsmen will have ample opportunity to see many of the new items in fishing tackle, hunting equipment, boats, motors, etc., during the forthcoming major sportsmen's shows.

First of the attractions will be the Toledo Sports Show running from March 9 through 17. This will be followed by the Columbus Sports Show which opens March 15 and closes March 24. The American-Canadian Sports Show in Cleveland will be held from March 22 through March 31.

ON FEBRUARY 10, the League of Ohio Sportsmen concluded what officers of the group claimed was the most successful convention in the 49 years of its existence.

A number of nationally-known personalities in the natural resources field were on hand and took an active part on many of the panels as did representatives of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

One of the features of the 1957 convention was a report by affiliated clubs telling of their various projects. This phase of the program was initiated last year and met with such acclaim it formed the nucleous for this year's convention.

The annual banquet, held Saturday evening, was highlighted by the appearance of Governor C. William O'Neill, the principal speaker.

Top G-Man Tells Formula To Reduce Teenage Crime

WASHINGTON— Teamwork between parents and their children is the best insurance against 10 to 17 -year -olds falling among the three in every 100 such adolescents who now become involved in serious crimes, declares J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Parents must be sufficiently interested to know where their children are and what they are doing, and the youngsters should realize that this is not prying on the part of their mothers and fathers, but an indication of their love and affection.

Hoover has been making a special study of the crimes of youngsters in this age bracket where, during the last four years, arrests of boys and girls have increased 21 per cent.

He maintains that despite the shocking fact that a little over 43 per cent of the 2,262,480 major crimes committed last year were by children under 18, with nearly half of these under 15, there is nothing wrong with the youth of the nation as a whole which parents cannot remedy.

* * *

TO SUPPORT that belief he cites the fact that out of every 100 boys and girls in the 10 to 17 age group, 97 do live law-abiding lives. The remainder, however, last year were arrested in connection with 62 per cent of all automobile thefts, 53 per cent of all burglaries, 47 per cent of all larceny, and 21 per cent of all robberies.

However, he reports that his investigations reveal that the youth who commit crimes have "wandered into a morass of disbelief—where they have no faith, no belief in a Supreme Being, no respect for the rights of others, no belief in the dignity of man, and finally, no belief in themselves."

"This situation," says the nation's No. 1 crime enforcement chief, "is, in the final analysis, not the failure of youth, but the failure of adults. Criminals are not born; they are made.

"Too many parents allow their children to run free with no check on what they do, where or with whom they go. The result is a juvenile jungle. Too many homes breed delinquents through parental neglect.

Police making an arrest of 'teen-age speeders.

"I have studied the case histories of thousands of criminals and in almost every case, the failure to develop character is directly attributable to lack of proper influence and guidance in the home," he reported. "Unfortunately, many homes no longer provide the inspiration for right living.

"A new sense of responsibility must be born in the home if we are to reverse the rising trend of youth toward lawlessness," Hoover declares, and then recommends, "Reasonable discipline, administered with consistency so as to develop a stable individual."

* * *

HOOVER contends that "what is needed is to restore the home to its proper place where the lessons of the Golden Rule are translated into daily living, where the members of the family counsel and aid each other, and where parents are companions of their children as well as the providers of the necessities of life; where parents share their leisure time with their children, and where children are taught the spiritual and civic responsibilities of manhood and womanhood."

For the lack of this, the FBI chief warns that one out of every 16 homes this year will have been "blighted by sorrow and misery because of crime, and lawlessness which leaves disgrace, shame and heavy hearts, as loved ones join the ever expanding forces of the lawless."

Hoover says that from a material standpoint this will cost every home in America $467 this year alone; yet for every $1 spent on education, $1.29 will have been spent on crime, and for every $1 contributed to the churches of America, crime will have cost $12 by the end of this year.

"The moral cost to the nation is incalculable," Hoover warns. "Modern society is geared to a fast tempo; there are great demands on parents to provide the material necessities for their children.

"However, too often the primary need for sympathetic and spiritual guidance is being neglected, and children are being deprived of the very element which is most essential to stabilize them emotionally."

Ohio-Wanted Kidnaper Held In California

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Police here held 53-year-old Robert Haine Hemming today charged with suspicion of kidnaping an 8-year-old boy.

Hemming told police he was once accused of kidnaping the daughter of an Ohio State University professor and had been released from Ohio State Penitentiary last Dec. 28 after serving 10 years for passing bad checks. He said he was not prosecuted on the Ohio kidnaping charge.

The boy, Larry Allen Olsen, was found running down U.S. 101 early Sunday. He had been missing since shortly before noon Saturday when a playmate said he left an ocean beach with the man.

Police said Hemming admitted he was arrested on a charge of kidnaping the Ohio State co-ed New Year's Day 1947 but insisted he was not prosecuted on the charge.

Columbus newspaper files indicated Hemming was charged in a grand jury indictment with kidnaping Mary Virginia Kimberly, 20, and with passing bad checks. He was convicted and sent to prison on the check charge.

Police said the Olsen boy told them Hemming bought him ice cream and gave him wine to drink. He spent Saturday night at at a motel with Hemming and was then taken by the man to a place on the highway and released to go home, police said.

Police said Hemming insisted he had not molested or harmed the boy. They said the boy said the same.

Columbus Mayor Keeps Mum On Reported $50,000 Bribe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Did someone try to bribe Columbus Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner to lift the city's ban on extending sewage and water service beyond the city limits?

Various officials including City Council and the Franklin County prosecutor have been trying to find out ever since the mayor told a businessmen's luncheon group Feb. 5 that he was offered $50,000 to relax the sewer and water freeze.

"Bribe," yelled City Council and the hunt was on.

Council formed a special investigating committee to look into the affair. County Prosecutor Samuel L. Devine opened his own investigation and for a while there was talk of taking the matter to the grand jury.

Mayor Sensenbrenner at first seemed surprised by the furor and then declined to discuss it. He has steadfastly refused to name the person or persons who reportedly made the offer. And in a recent letter to Devine he denied that such an offer had been made.

Devine ended his investigation when he received Sensenbrenner's letter. The mayor said he felt the letter closed the incident.

Friday Council issued a statement challenging Sensenbrenner to publicly deny his statement about the offer. The statement read, in part:

"If there is no truth in the mayor's statement that he was offered $50,000 and had it (the money) in his hand, then the mayor should say so publicly.

"However, if an offer was made, he has an obligation to the citizens of Columbus to name the party making the reported offer."

When newsmen asked if he intended to answer Council's challenge, Mayor Sensenbrenner smiled and walked away.

Prisoner Writes His Own Sentence

AKRON (AP)—Judge Walter B. Wanamaker let the convicted prisoner sentence himself, because he had spent eight months in jail awaiting trial.

"Since the courts haven't been able to get through to you to straighten you out," the judge told Charles Holsey, 47, of Akron, convicted of assault on a 6-year-old girl, "maybe it would be better if you sentence yourself."

"I sentence me to 30 days in jail," said Holsey. "I suspend the 30 days and put me on probation for a year."

Judge Wanamaker let the sentence stand.

Various officials including City Council and the Franklin County prosecutor have been trying to find out ever since the mayor told a businessmen's luncheon group Feb. 5 that he was offered $50,000 to relax the sewer and water freeze.

"Bribe," yelled City Council and the hunt was on.

Council formed a special investigating committee to look into the affair. County Prosecutor Samuel L. Devine opened his own investigation and for a while there was talk of taking the matter to the grand jury.

Mayor Sensenbrenner at first seemed surprised by the furor and then declined to discuss it. He has steadfastly refused to name the person or persons who reportedly made the offer. And in a recent letter to Devine he denied that such an offer had been made.

Devine ended his investigation when he received Sensenbrenner's letter. The mayor said he felt the letter closed the incident.

Friday Council issued a statement challenging Sensenbrenner to publicly deny his statement about the offer. The statement read, in part:

"If there is no truth in the mayor's statement that he was offered $50,000 and had it (the money) in his hand, then the mayor should say so publicly.

"However, if an offer was made, he has an obligation to the citizens of Columbus to name the party making the reported offer."

When newsmen asked if he intended to answer Council's challenge, Mayor Sensenbrenner smiled and walked away.

Prisoner Writes His Own Sentence

AKRON (AP)—Judge Walter B. Wanamaker let the convicted prisoner sentence himself, because he had spent eight months in jail awaiting trial.

"Since the courts haven't been able to get through to you to straighten you out," the judge told Charles Holsey, 47, of Akron, convicted of assault on a 6-year-old girl, "maybe it would be better if you sentence yourself."

"I sentence me to 30 days in jail," said Holsey. "I suspend the 30 days and put me on probation for a year."

Judge Wanamaker let the sentence stand.
